MATOS TO ASK RECOGNITION FROM POWERS

Claim to Hold Majority of Towns on Venezuelan Coast.

TWO NATIONS SAID TO FAVOR REQUEST

Revolutionists Are Now Attacking City of Cumana With a Heavy Force.

FRANCE GOES AFTER HAITIEN BLOCKADE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 13.—Upon learning of the fall of Barcelona, and in view of the fact that the customs ports Ciudad de Bolivar, Guiria, Cano, Colorado, Coro and Carupano are also in the hands of the revolutionists, and that Cumana will probably be captured tomorrow, the Matos committee will address a memorandum to foreign nations asking to be recognized as belligerents.

It is reported that Great Britain and another nation favor the request, even before the facts are presented.

The revolutionists are now attacking Cubana and expect to storm the city within 24 hours. The government has only about 250 men to oppose the 1,100 men of the attacking force.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Aug. 13.—News has reached here that the Venezuelan revolutionary forces under Gen. Matos and the government troops under President Castro are expected soon to meet on the plains outside of Caracas in a decisive battle. Plots against the life of President Castro are said to have been discovered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Conditions are growing more chaotic in Venezuela and no confirmation is obtainable of the reports that the American consular agent's house and the consulates of Italy and Holland at Barcelona were sacked by the revolutionists, who captured that town on August 8. The suggestion that President Castro be given an asylum aboard an American war vessel in case of his overthrow has not been considered seriously by the officials of the state department. They do not consider the situation as critical as that.

Cable Is Cut Again.

Minister Bowen cabled the state department today that he had been trying in vain to communicate with the gunboat Marietta, which has just returned from a trip up the Orinoco, in order to send her to Barcelona. He says that the cable between Caracas and Barcelona has been cut again. The Marietta was today reported to the navy department as having arrived at Port of Spain. Minister Bowen wants a warship at La Guyayra, where there is now a warship. Commander McLean has notified the navy department that he has, in pursuance of his orders, left Porto Cabello for Barcelona and he is probably nearly there by this time. His orders give him wide latitude in his actions. In the event that the American interests, or the consular agent, Ignacio H. Baiz, have been molested, he will be justified in adopting drastic measures to make the revolutionists realize that American interests must be immune from pillage or disturbance, no matter dlw disturbed matters in Venezuela may be.

The probability of the United States landing marines at Porto Cabello depends entirely upon the development of the situation there. Unofficial advices state that no orders have been sent from Berlin for the German warship to do so, but, inasmuch as the commander has wide latitude, there is little doubt that such action will be taken in the event of serious disturbance. The Topeka, which is at Porto Cabelloa, can land a force of 125 bluejackets with a field gun.

Trouble Grows in Haiti.

Minister Powell cabled the state department from Port au Prince today that Gonalves was in the hands of the revolutionary forces under General Firmin.

On Monday he cabled that the Vasquez government had notified him that Gonalves with three other provinces were in rebellion.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI, Aug. 13.—The French steamer Ferdinande Lesseps has sailed for Cape Haitien, accompanied by the French cruiser d'Assas, which will protect the entry of the de Lesseps to the port in case of opposition from Admiral Killick on the gunboat Crete-A-Pierrot.

A report reaches here to the effect that Admiral Killick has cut the cable between Mole St. Nicholas and Santiago and intends to cut the cable between Mole St. Nicholas and Cape Haitien. All is quiet here.

The blockade of the port of Cape Haitien by the Firminist gunboat Crete-A-Pierrot was announced in a dispatch from Port au Prince August 11. Cablegrams from Commander McCrea of the United States gunboat Machias, August 12, said the blockade was ineffective, and that he considered it abandoned.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—A telegram from Cape Haitien says that very many persons were incinerated during the burning of Petit Goave on Saturday last.

Lynched Innocent Negroes.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Aug. 13.—Henry Lancaster, the negro in jail at Parsons, W. Va., in connection with the murder of Chief of Police F. H. Wilmoth at Womelsdorf, W. Va., says that Clements and Caroll, the two negroes lynched, were the wrong men, and that the murderer was James Black.

MAY YOHE JOINS BRADLEE STRONG AT LISBON HOTEL

Will Seek Far Away Land Where Reporters Are Unknown.

WEDDING DAY SET FOR SEPTEMBER 25

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

London, Aug. 13.—May Yohe and Putnam Bradlee Strong have met again in Europe and have decided to get married, according to an interview which the correspondent of the Daily Express at Lisbon had with them.

Under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson of New York, May Yohe and Putnam Bradlee Strong are togetner once more, after a stormy period of separation and strange tales of lost jewels, writes the correspondent, who says he called on them and found them living happily in one of the best hotels in Lisbon.

"I have been very sick here in Lisbon," said Strong, "and last Monday I telegraphed to Miss Yohe, who I saw by the papers was in Paris, to come to me. In answer to my message she packed her trunks and left on Tuesday morning by the express, arriving here Wednesday night. We are perfectly happy if the papers will only let us alone, and we intend to get married September 25, as soon as Miss Yohe's decree is made absolute."

"Where we shall be when that time comes I cannot exactly say, as our movements are uncertain.

"After we are married we shall travel for awhile and perhaps take a cruise to Norway, Sweden and Denmark. We shall never return to America," declared Strong, in decisive tones, Miss Yohe agreeing.

"And whatever happens Miss Yohe will not return to the stage, as she is disgusted with it. There has been no collusion between Miss Yohe and myself. She had no idea of following me when she sailed from New York, and did not know my whereabouts until I telegraphed her in Paris."

"I wish positively to deny," he added, "the interviews which have appeared in American papers, purporting to have been held with me. They are fakes, and I am surprised the papers published them.

"It is not true that I pawned the sword of honor given me by Gen. Smith for $5. The papers say it cost $17. I do not know what it cost, but certainly I did not chase round all the pawn brokers in New York city with the sword to raise $5 on it.

"I do not know where we shall live in future, but it will be in some remote land where reporters are unknown."

Miss Yohe, who looked very well and had quite recovered from the hysterical attack she had in London, remarked:

"The major is right when he says we are perfectly happy. I did not follow him from New York. I came just because I felt like it, and wanted an ocean voyage.

"I was very willing to come to Lisbon," she said, with an affectionate look at Strong, "when I got the message in Paris on the Monday night. At the time I was laid up under the doctor's orders with a dislocated knee, which I got through falling out of a cab outside one of the London hotels, but that did not stop me. I packed my trunks and traveled to Lisbon all alone, and here I am."

WATTERSON AGHAST AT CORRUPT ROAD TO HIGH POSITION

Declines to Court Rogues and Cheats to Become Governor of Kentucky

REMAINS HONEST EDITOR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 13.—Henry Watterson, who has been spoken of as a Democratic candidate for the governorship of Kentucky and for the Democratic nomination for president, caused a sensation in political circles of the state tonight by announcing that he would not be a candidate for the governorship. In an address to the Democrats of the state he says in part:

"Since so much has been said on the subject without authorization of mine, it seems proper that I should in some public manner declare that I shall not be a candidate for governor of Kentucky.

"When the suggestion was originally made, I gave it entertainment and consideration. It was represented to me that if I consented, I might rely upon substantial unanimity in the nominating convention, and although I am too old a hand at the bellows to take stock in any such nonsense, I confess that the thought of uniting the party in a new departure on high, broad lines of public policy, lifting the state out of the ruts of faction and restoring it to its former place at the head of the marching column of national Democracy, was not without its allurement to one who has always held office and officialism in all its forms, in sincere aversion.

"Preferment is not for me. Brought to the point, where I must look the situation full in the eye, I am appalled by the conditions which the successful candidate for office must needs meet and overcome, the rouges and cheats he must court or cozen; the servility he must affect or practice, the obligations incur; the personal solicitation, ignoble and humiliating; the use of money more or less corrupt and corrupting, for, though he people at his back, there stands the machine, first to be captured and then to be employed, with all that this implies."

DOG IS WORTH $1,000 EITHER DEAD OR ALIVE

Swallowed Three Diamond Rings Belonging to His Mistress, Mrs. McMaster Mills of New York.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENWICH, CONN., Aug. 13.—Sport, and English bulldog, owned by Mrs. McMaster Mills, wife of the president of the Plaza bank of New York, is worth $1,000 more today than he was yesterday. This is owing to the fact that the dog is supposed, and with good reason, to have swallowed three diamond rings owned by his mistress.

Sport has been a family pet for a dozen years, since the bank president brought him across the Atlantic as a gift to his wife. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Mills went bathing, and, before doing so, took off three diamond rings and laid them on the dresser. She locked the dog in her room and then went to the bathing grounds. When she returned she missed the rings. Sport was curled up on the bed and appeared to be breathing hard.

Mrs. Mills saw dog feet marks on the dresser and suspected Sport, for she had seen him nibble at watch chains and other sparkling objects, and she knew that with the bulldog in the room no person would have dared to enter. Today the dog appeared to be in his usual health, but an attendant has seen that no one knowing the value of the dog, dead or alive, should steal him.

FARMERS FORM COMBINE.

They Organize a Company With $50,000,000 Capital to Handle Their Own Products.

PIERRE, S. D., Aug. 13.—The Farmers' National Co-operative Exchange Company has filed articles of incorporation, showing a capital of $50,000,000. The purposes of the corporation are to buy, sell and deal in grain, provisions, live stock and all kinds of produce, on commission and otherwise, and for that purpose build and equip grain elevators, warehouses, cold storage plants, stock yards and whatever may be necessary to carry on the business of the corporation.

One-fourth of the capital stock will be used for building the elevators, yards, branch offices, etc., and another fourth will be made a cash fund for dealing in grain and provisions on the board of trade. The remaining half of the capital stock will be left virtually with the farmers in banks where the money has been raised, to enable them to hold their crops for a more favorable market.

Guffey on Chautauqua Board.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 13.—At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Chautauqua assembly this afternoon the following trustees were elected: M. B. Beager, South Bend, Ind.; James M. Guffey, Pittsburgh; Chester D. Massey, Toronto; Ira M. Miller, Akron, O.; S. Frederick Nixon, Westfield; F. H. Rockwell, Warren, and Clement Studebaker, Jr., South Bend, Ind. Nixon and Guffey are new members.

DISGRACEFUL PERFORMANCE OF POLICEMEN

Two Overbearing Officers While Off Duty Almost Cause Riot.

ALLEGED THAT THEY HAD BEEN DRINKING

The unwarranted, unjustifiable arrest of two newsboys, made by two policemen who were not on duty, who were in citizens' clothes and whose conversation and actions indicated that they had been drinking, caused a collision between two street cars and a patrol wagon, the injury of several persons and no end of excitement on Smithfield street, between Third and Fourth avenues, shortly before 6 o'clock last evening.

Edward Mellan, one of the officers, had his right wrist broken in two places. Edward Deacy, a newsboy, was severely bruised, and a woman who refused to give her name, was cut about the head.

Mellan and Deacy were taken to the Homeopathic hospital. The injured woman was taken away by a companion in a carriage.

Willie and Dodds Grant, two newsboys, brothers, of No. 33 Gazzam street, were having a friendly frolic last evening at Fourth avenue and Smithfield street.

Corner Man Saw Nothing Wrong.

They have been selling papers at this corner for years, and everybody about the corner at the time enjoyed the little scuffle they were having. The corner man on duty at that point was watching the boys and laughing at their frolic.

Suddenly Edward Mellan and Patrick Mangan, two patrolmen who were in citizens' clothes and off duty, got into action. They had been about that vicinity a good part of the afternoon and it is said had been drinking. In a rough and furious sort of fashion they hurried across the street and grabbed the two brothers. They shook and handled them in a rough manner. The boys, taken by surprise, tried to impress the two officious ones that they were merely playing with each other, that they were brothers and that they had done nothing to warrant arrest, but their entreaties were of no avail.

Mangan Made the Most Trouble.

Several citizens got after Mellan and persuaded him to let his captive go. Officer Mangan, however, was inexorable. He pulled Walter Grant to the patrol box at Third avenue and Smithfield street and summoned a patrol wagon from the Central police station. By this time several hundred citizens gathered about the officer and the boy.

The patrol wagon arrived and Walter was pushed into it. Mangan followed him. Mellan remained on the step. Deacy jumped on the step beside him to assure Walter that friends would soon see to it that he was released. The patrol wagon was headed toward Smithfield street.

Just then car No. 394 of the Second avenue McKeesport line came down Third avenue and crashed into the wagon. The impact forced the wagon forward and the pole of the vehicle was driven into the side of a Birmingham street car.

The collision made a heavy crash and general excitement prevailed for several minutes. The passengers in the street car became panic-stricken and the horses in the patrol wagon became so frightened that they became almost beyond control.

Driver Thrown from Seat.

Driver Thomas McAndrew was hurled from his seat at the horses' feet and the occupants of the wagon were tossed about like toys. Mellan suffered the most. He had his wrist broken in two places.

Deacy was struck by the car, and at first it was thought that both his legs were broken. Both the officer and the boy were taken to the Homeopathic hospital. The pole of the patrol wagon, when it penetrated the side of the Birmingham street car, struck a woman. She was badly injured and was taken to her home by her companion in a carriage. Her friend refused to give her name. She was an elderly woman, and from all appearances was in intense pain.

Another patrol wagon was summoned, and Walter Grant was taken to the Central police station. A friend put up a forfeit for him, and he was later released. The crowd scored the actions of the policemen as a disgraceful exhibition. Both officers acted outrageously. The police officials refused to discuss the incident at the Central police station.

Walter Grant said that he and his brother were only playing together as they often did. The boys are 12 and 13 years old, respectively. Deacy is 14 years old, and lives at No. 802 Second avenue.

Figuring With Belgian Glassmen.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—In a dispatch from Brussels the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says the representatives of several large American glass manufactories are there endeavoring to negotiate the unification of prices with Belgian glassmakers.

GENERAL J. H. SMITH SUFFERS BREAKDOWN OF NERVOUS SYSTEM

Seriously Ill as Result of Philippine Campaign and Subsequent Events.

SHOCK PROVES TOO GREAT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 13.—Gen. Jacob H. Smith is seriously ill tonight at the home of his brother-in-law, Judge James W. Bannon. His illness began last night, but was not considered serious until this afternoon, when several physicians were called.

The general's illness is in the form of a nervous collapse. The strain of his long campaign in Samar, the subsequent court-martial and then the unexpected news of his retirement, received on his landing at San Francisco, have proven too much for the veteran, and it seems that he is about to pay the penalty which nature demands of every man who devotes himself to any task to the detriment of his personal health and welfare.

Yesterday afternoon the general felt much refreshed after his long journey half-way round the world. He had seemingly recovered fully from the strain of missing trains and dodging reporters all the way across the continent. He passed an almost sleepless night, however, and this afternoon was in an alarming state. He has been temporarily robbed of his old-time fire and energy and is in a listless condition.

Indications point to the existence in his system of germs of fevers which beset the American soldiers in the Philippines. His relatives are thoroughly frightened, fearing that in his weakened and nervous condition he will not be able to withstand the ravages of a malignant fever.

The general's illness will probably interfere largely with his plans for the future. His two aids in his Samar campaign, Lieutenants Shields and Bates, who have been preparing to come to assist the general in his official report, have not been notified to postpone their trip, but will be if the general's condition should grow worse.

AMERICANS CUT DOWN BY MORO SWORDSMEN

Two Men on Outpost Duty Killed and Attacking Party Makes Good Its Escape.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, Aug. 13.—A small party of Moros surprised an outpost of the Twenty-seventh Infantry at Camp Vicars yesterday. Sergeant Foley and Private Carey were killed and Private Van Dorn severely wounded. The Moros, who numbered only a dozen, were armed with spears and swords.

The morning was dark and foggy. The attacking party crawled to within a few feet of the sentinels and then sprang upon them suddenly. The entire outpost rushed to the relief of the sentinels, but they were too late and the Moros escaped, although possibly a few of them were wounded. The American sentinels were terribly cut by the swords and spears.

The attacking Moros were all from Bacolod, and the occurrence probably will result in a move against that town, which has a strong fort and other defenses.

Constabulary Inspector William Schermerhorn, whose home was in Seattle, Wash., was mortally wounded in a recent fight with Ladrones at Ilgan, Mindanao.

Herbert Lucker, a teacher, died of cholera August 6 at San Miguel, province of Ilocos Norte.

The fourth anniversary of the capture of the city of Manila, which was surrendered to the American forces on August 13, 1898, was observed as a general holiday.

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENT.

Norfolk & Western Awards Contracts for Large Quantities of Steel Rails.

ROANOKE, VA., Aug. 13.—The Norfolk & Western Railroad Company has made contracts for the construction of new lines, double-tracking and other work which will necessitate the expenditure of several million dollars.

The most important work is the line on Big Sandy river, West Virginia, which is being pushed since the coal miners' strike has subsided. This road will be about 80 miles long and shortens the distance between Wayne and Kenova about 22 miles.

The contract to complete the Cripple Creek extension from Ivanhoe, Va., to Speedwell, Va., a distance of 12 miles, has been let, and work will commence at once.

Contracts have been made for 24,000 tons of steel rails to be used during the next year. Fourteen thousand tons are to be rolled by the Pennsylvania Steel Company, and 10,000 tons by the United States Steel Corporation. The greater part of these rails will be used in double-tracking between Kenova, W. Va., and Columbus, O.

RAILROADERS CAN NOW REST AT BUSY CONWAY

Pleasant Quarters Are Opened for Men Who Run Freights.

ORGANIZATION IS NOT EXPENSIVE ONE

All the railroad men who could get there were the guests of the Pennsylvania company yesterday when the service of the "rest house" at the Conway yards near Freedom was initiated. This building is the only one of its kind in or about Pittsburgh. Its purpose is the accommodation of railroad men, with no ulterior object. It has cost the railroad company $30,000 as it stands today, and is one of the most comfortable club houses in the Ohio valley. In addition it serves as a hotel.

General Superintendent A. B. Schoyer of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines is the originator of this "rest house." There are similar institutions in New York, Chicago, Cleveland and Albany and a few elsewhere, but none in this part of the country.

Conway is the great clearing house for the freight cars of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines. The yards cover many miles of track and hundreds of men are there during the day from all points along several divisions. In addition there are scores of men employed on switching crews. The yards are about the only thing at the place and it has been impossible to find anything better to do than loaf to kill the time. It was to obviate this and to make the lay-over at Conway something to be looked forward to with pleasure that the "rest house" was designed.

The building is three stories high. It contains 50 well-furnished bed rooms. The dining room is 40x14 feet in size and will seat 50 persons at once. There are reading and smoking rooms. The reading room is supplied with The Gazette and other Pittsburgh papers and the leading monthly and weekly periodicals. There is in addition a case of interesting books. There are two shower and two tub baths and 100 lockers. Along the front of the first and second floors are 12-foot porches overlooking the yards.

The building is under the direct supervision of General Secretary W. L. McFrederick, who has charge of the various buildings for the men on the Pennsylvania Company's lines. His headquarters will be at this building since it is the most important of all.

The plan of organization of "The Conway Railroad Association," as outlined yesterday by General Secretary McFrederick, is to charge annual dues of $3 as membership fee. The regular price for beds is 20 cents a day, but to members the price will be 10 cents. There is likewise a reduction of 10 per cent upon meal tickets to members and lockers are furnished them free. But the fact that a man does not belong to the association does not make his right to the house less. It is intended for all in the company's employ.

LOADED WITH MONEY.

Alleged Pittsburgher Arrested in New York and $600 Found in Bag Tied Around Waist.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Alfred D. Gerwin, 68 years old, who says his home is in Pittsburgh, but who is a guest at the Mills hotel in Bleecker street, was a prisoner in Jefferson Market court today, charged with being intoxicated in Washington Square park.

When searched at the station house a bag containing $600 was found tied around his waist. He spent a week in Ohio last fall and was with Governor Nash all that time. He spoke from the same platform with Senator Hanna and made speeches at Springfield, Fremont, Conneaut, Oberlin and other places. The secretary at that time was finishing his second term as governor of Iowa.

Mr. Shaw delights in discussing political and economic questions in the presence of workingmen and farmers. He refers speaking to the "plain people" in a tent or in the open air rather than addressing large and fashionable audiences in opera houses and armories in the big cities. The secretary likes to get close to the people and always succeeded in doing so during his own campaigns in Iowa and when touring other states.

When he goes to Ohio in the fall he will be put into the districts where the Republican candidates are having hard fights.

Gerwin told Magistrate Cornell that he had never been arrested before, and on his promise of reformation was permitted to go. Gerwin, the police say, is a rich man and avoids uptown hotels. He said he had been in town for about a week.

The city directory does not contain the name of Alfred D. Gerwin.

HELD FOR CONTEMPT.

Miners Are Fined by Judge Keller at Charleston, W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 13.—In the miners' cases Judge Keller held John Richards and his associates guilty of contempt and fined them $5 and costs each, holding them committed until the fines were paid or bail given. Richards is president of District 17, United Mines Workers.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 13.—The provost guard of two companies, which has been kept on constant duty since the troops were called here, was reduced to one company today, the soldiers at the Pennsylvania railroad station having been withdrawn. The company stationed at the Reading railroad station, the scene of the riot, will be kept there for some time.

QUAY READY TO SUGGEST BATTLE LINE

Calls Lieutenants to Meet September 3 to Report on the Situation.

NO OPPOSITION WORTH NOTING

Sticks to Estimate of Quarter of Million Majority for State Ticket.

PENNYPACKER AWAITS CAMPAIGN OPENING

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—Chairman M. S. Quay has fixed September 3 as the date for the first meeting of the Republican state committee. It will be held here at the headquarters in Locust street. Col. Quay will be present to listen to reports from the various counties and make a few suggestions as to the best methods to roll up a majority of a quarter of a million for Judge Pennypacker and the other candidates on the state ticket.

Chairman Quay and the other Republican leaders know of no reason why this estimated majority, predicted by Senator Quay at the state convention, should not be realized. Aside from the Democratic vote, which will, it is believed, fall below the normal showing this fall, there is no organized opposition to the Republican candidates. As a political factor, the Union party, which made a show of strength last fall, is hopelessly disorganized. Its leaders here are largely favorable to the Republican state and local county candidates. A state convention has been called by Chairman Frank Riter, and, by coincidence, it will be held upon the same date as that fixed by Chairman Quay for the meeting of the Republican state committee.

Quay Easy to Reach.

Chairman Quay will probably be able to come to Philadelphia next week. There is no pressing necessity for his presence, as he is at all times in close touch with state headquarters and the matters demanding his personal attention can be cared for as well in Atlantic City as here.

The call mailed today by Secretary W. R. Andrews to the members of the state committee is as follows:

Headquarters Republican State Committee,
Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.

Dear sir—You are hereby notified that there will be a meeting of the Republican state committee at the headquarters, 1417 Locust street, Philadelphia, Pa., on Wednesday, September 3, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring regarding the conduct of the campaign and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought to the attention of the committee. A full attendance of the committee is earnestly requested, and I hope you will be able to make it convenient to be present. Yours very truly,

M. S. QUAY, Chairman.

Postponement Was Necessary.

"It was Senator Quay's intention to hold the first meeting of the committee this month," said Secretary Andrews, "but his recent accident in Atlantic City made it absolutely necessary that the meeting should be postponed, as his physician could not promise that he would be in good shape to surely visit the city earlier."

Former State Senator William A. Andrews, now of New Mexico but registering as from Pittsburgh, was a visitor to state headquarters today, calling upon Senator Penrose and his brother, Wesley R. Andrews. He intends to spend some time in the western part of the state during the fall campaign. As to his interests in the development of New Mexico, the former senator, browned like a cowboy, said that the "next new state is growing very rapidly."

The senator has recently built a line of railroad in the vicinity of his mining operations, which connects the two main railroad systems in New Mexico.

LEBANON, PA., Aug. 13.—Ex-Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, today informed the Mt. Gretna agricultural, industrial and mechanical exposition management that he will not speak at the exposition's annual meeting next week. It was the purpose to have Judge Pennypacker, ex-Gov. Pattison and Dr. Swallow speak there. Judge Pennypacker, in declining the invitation, says he deems it inadvisable to discuss the issues before his campaign is formally opened next week.

Shaw to Stump Ohio.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Secretary Shaw will take the stump in Ohio this fall in the interest of the Republican ticket. He will make a short tour of the state in response to invitations from Senator Hanna and the state executive committee and very likely will make one speech in Cleveland.

Mr. Shaw is regarded as the best stump speaker in the president's cabinet. He is forceful, convincing and eloquent, and talks straight at the audiences and not over their heads. He spent a week in Ohio last fall and was with Governor Nash all that time. He spoke from the same platform with Senator Hanna and made speeches at Springfield, Fremont, Conneaut, Oberlin and other places. The secretary at that time was finishing his second term as governor of Iowa.

Mr. Shaw delights in discussing political and economic questions in the presence of workingmen and farmers. He refers speaking to the "plain people" in a tent or in the open air rather than addressing large and fashionable audiences in opera houses and armories in the big cities. The secretary likes to get close to the people and always succeeded in doing so during his own campaigns in Iowa and when touring other states.

When he goes to Ohio in the fall he will be put into the districts where the Republican candidates are having hard fights.

Surveying Railroad Line.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Surveyors are at work for a proposed railway from Moravia to the center of this city. It is to run to the intersection of South Mill and Water streets, following the route of the old Erie canal northward along the banks of the Beaver river from Moravia. It is not known what interest the surveyors represent.

LATROBE GETS NEXT MEETING OF FIREMEN

Westmoreland's Steel Town Secured Honor Without an Effort.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

E. G. Perry of Greensburg is Chosen President Against Three Competitors—Father of the Association Had No Opposition for Secretary.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jeannette, Pa., Aug. 3.—Latrobe gets the firemen's convention next year. The boys from Westmoreland's steel town did not put in a formal bid, but said that if their town were selected they would give the association the best time of its existence. As the town had entertained the firemen previously the invitation was accepted. Other towns withdrew and the location of the next convention was left with the executive committee.

The business meeting of the association started early and did not adjourn until about 5 o'clock this afternoon. There was a contest for president, and the vote was close. The candidates were John R. Musser, Barnesboro; Frederick Gotschalk, Whittaker; E. J. Perry, Greensburg, and Alexander Andres, Etna. One hundred and sixty-nine votes were cast, and E. J. Perry was elected.

For the three vice presidents there were four candidates. John M. Kessel, Jeannette, was elected first vice president; C. B. Everett, Greensburg, second, and B. J. Bucgley, McKees Rocks, third. There was no opposition to W. H. Sharah of Braddock for secretary. He has held the office for five years, and was the first president of the organization. Among the boys he is called "Father" of the volunteer firemen's association. For treasurer J. H. Steel of Wilkinsburg had no opposition.

During the day many addresses were made. It was agreed that the Jeannette convention is the largest the association has had, and the entertainment by the citizens' committee all that the visitors could wish.

In his address Secretary Sharah stated that this big organization, representing all the important towns in Western Pennsylvania, grew out of a meeting held nine years ago in Old City hall, Pittsburgh, at which only nine firemen were present.

The business of the convention was finished this evening. Later the delegates were entertained by a trolley ride to Oakford park, where a firemen's ball was held until midnight.

The street parade will take place tomorrow afternoon. Many companies are here to take part. Chief Marshal Albert Vogel states that the parade will be an imposing one, with a dozen bands in line. The route covers about all the streets in town and the procession will pass in review at the stand at Clay avenue and Sixth street. The judges on parade are J. W. Keltz, Sanders Levy and W. W. Frank.

After the parade there will be a service reel race of 250 yards, for which there are numerous entries. The tournament Friday morning on the ball grounds in West Jeannette is attracting much attention, as about all the racing companies have entered.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and warmer weather is again promised by the Washington weather bureau for Pittsburgh and vicinity today, and it is probable that the forecast will prove true this time, as the weather is warming up rapidly in the west. Dodge City, Kan., yesterday had a maximum temperature of 100 degrees. Warmer conditions were predicted for this section yesterday, but instead of warmer atmosphere it was cooler. In fact, it was the coolest August 13 known in this section since the local weather office was established. Yesterday's maximum was 72 degrees, the minimum 53 and the mean 62.

ARCHITECTS GET AN OBJECT LESSON

SOAKED MAPLE FLOORS CAUSE BRICK WALLS TO BULGE OUT.

Interesting Demonstration Made in the Modern Construction Slow-Burning Warehouse of Schwarzchild & Sulzberger in Which Sunday's Fire Occurred

The walls of the McCullough building, corner of Penn avenue and Twelfth street, the scene of last Sunday morning's fire, are bulged out four inches on the Twelfth street side, and the damage may be so great as to cause the building to be wrecked. The bulging is caused by something never before known, in Pittsburgh at least, and it is said that few architects ever before knew of or thought of such a thing as has happened.

"It is a fact that the walls of the McCullough building have bulged out since the fire," said Building Inspector J. A. A. Brown, yesterday, "but I do not think the building is yet seriously injured. I have been watching it, because I have been waiting for a fire in a modern construction, slow-burning building, to see what effect a large amount of water would have.

"In the modern building of slow-burning construction the floors are of 3-inch pine on top of which 1-inch maple is laid. This top maple flooring is literally compressed into place. It is this one inch of top floor of maple that has pressed the wall out of place. Some people are not going to believe this, but it is a fact. My attention was called to this by a statement that a floor of maple laid on damp concrete had forced out an 18-inch wall. I have been on the watch for a wet maple floor to see what would happen.

Force Exercised by Flooring.

"On the sixth floor of the McCullough building there is one place where the maple floor has raised nearly a foot, in a bow from the pine floor below it. The third and fourth floors are not so bad, but this is because of the tremendous load of glass holding them down. Take off the load and the floors will buckle or the wall will move farther out. Something has to give way."

Clifford A. Huntley of New York, architect for Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, was in Pittsburgh yesterday to examine the building. He has charge of all buildings occupied by this firm. He said he was of the opinion that when the building was relieved of the load, and dried out, that the wall would settle back nearly to its original position.

The walls of the McCullough building are 26 inches thick for the first two stories. For two more stories they are 22 inches thick, and then for two there are 18. Mr. Huntley was of the opinion that the walls could be drawn back into full position, but Capt. Brown rather advised against this, owing to the liability of breaking the bonds.

George S. Orth, architect of the building, and also Harry Darlington's architect, Mr. Darlington being manager of the McCullough estate, examined the building yesterday and said there was nothing to fear at present. He did say, however, that that he was of the opinion that Mr. Darlington would order the wall down as soon as he hears that it is out of plumb, as Mr. Darlington wants everything right and is not a man to take chances.

Revelation to an Architect.

Mr. Orth said that the expansion of the maple flooring was a revelation to him, and that he would not have believed it could do so much damage if he had not had a demonstration. Mr. Orth has a plan for the prevention of what has happened in this building, and something that will prevent the flooding of buildings by firemen when there is a bad fire, or one as stubborn as the one on Sunday morning.

Mr. Orth's plan to prevent the gathering of water is nothing more or less than openings to let off the water. His idea is to have narrow openings in the walls, near the floors, protected by traps swinging outward, so that when the water poured in by the firemen seeks an outlet its own weight and volume will open the traps and let it run away from the building into the street. Mr. Orth said yesterday that he would provide such openings in the plans of the next storage building he has, and would advocate its general use.

The fire on the fifth floor of the building, soon after noon yesterday, was caused by spontaneous combustion. There was no loss. The insurance adjusters are not through yet, and no attempt has been made to clean up any part of the building.

THEY WON A STRIKE WHILE THEY SLEPT

American Bridge Company Yielded in Dispute With Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

Something like 3,000 structural iron and bridge workers employed by the American Bridge Company have won a strike while they slept. Early yesterday morning President Frank Buchanan of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers notified General Secretary-Treasurer D. F. McIntyre of Duquesne to put out the word that every worker of the organization employed by the big bridge company should quit work until the company acceded to demands at Philadelphia, where a strike has been on since May.

The Pittsburgh officers busied themselves, and about 600 employes of the bridge company in the Pittsburgh district will hesitate about returning to work today. Some of them will wait for the word from the walking delegates or other officers. However, the Pittsburgh local, No. 2, which has forced up wages for its men sharply in two years past, will have a regular meeting tonight and then an effectual ending of the strike, which was practically ended before it had really begun, will be arranged.

The bridgemen had no intention to wait for meetings of their local organization before quitting work. Their agreement does not preclude a sympathetic strike in such a case as this.

Late last night President Buchanan and other officials of the general organization came to terms with representatives of the American Bridge Company at Philadelphia, and the Associated Press was authorized to wire throughout the country that the strike had been declared off, "the American Bridge Company having granted the demands of the Philadelphia strikers."

INTERNATIONAL PRISONERS ARE FREE IN CANADA

Col. Gaynor and Capt. Greene Liberated by Quebec Judge.

HOLDS WARRANT ILLEGAL

Men Wanted for Alleged Fraud in United States Government Harbor Work Released from Jail—Attorney General Declines Comment.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Quebec, Aug. 13.—Col. John F. Gaynor and Capt. Benjamin D. Greene scored a decisive victory today in their fight against extradition to the United States, where they are wanted in connection with alleged frauds in harbor work for the federal government involving millions of dollars. Judge Caron in the superior court discharged the prisoners from the custody of Sheriffs Langelier of Quebec and Valee of Montreal, in whose official care they have been since their sensational arrest in Quebec last May.

A large number of the prisoner's friends were in the court room and they heartily congratulated the two men upon their release. Col. Gaynor and Capt. Green left the court room soon after Judge Caron had concluded and proceeded to the chateau Frantenac. Col. Gaynor, who is suffering from rheumatism, retired to his room.

It is understood that the United States government will institute new proceedings for extradition, but up to a late hour no step had been taken by counsel representing the Washington authorities.

Warrant Declared Illegal.

Judge Canon, who spoke in French, occupied about two hours in delivering his judgment. In reviewing the legal proceedings since the arrest of the two prisoners, he pointed out that their counsel had raised an important question to the effect that the warrant issued by Magistrate Lafontaine was illegal on the ground that it did not contain the date nor the year in which the alleged offense had been committed. He could not presume when the offense was committed and it may have been previous to the signing of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, and if so the accused could not be held, as the treaties had no retroactive effect.

According to a deposition made in Montreal by Mr. Erwin, counsel for the United States, in May last, continued Judge Caron, the accused were charged with fraud committed on or about January 1, 1897. That crime was not included in the treaties, and that of receiving money under false pretenses was only included in the treaty of 1900. This was fatal to the prosecution ,and the warrant issued by Judge Lafontaine was defective, as the offense included therein did not fall under the extradition treaty; consequently the arrest was illegal and the accused must be set at liberty.

Many Points Considered.

After citing authorities in support of his decision Judge Caron concluded as follows:

Considering that the warrant in virtue of which the petitioners are detained contains no date of the commission of the offense whereof the petitioners are accused; considering that in virtue of the treaties of extradition existing between Great Britain and the United States, it is positively provided that these treaties shall have no retroactive effect for offenses committed before their passage; considering that the allegation of the rate of the commission of the offense is in consequence essential to the jurisdiction of the commissioner to issue a warrant of arrest; considering furthermore that it is not alleged in the warrant that the offense for which said warrant has been issued is one of criminal participation, punishable by the laws of both countries, which is a condition required by the last paragraph of the first article of the treaty of 1890; considering that the information, indictments and true bills and all documents produced for the issue of the warrant show that the offenses of which the petitioners are charged and for which they would have to stand their trials in the United States, should extradition be granted, are not within the terms of the treaties of extradition between Great Britain and the United States and disclose no offense committed by the prisoners for which they could be extradited under the said treaties; considering in consequence that the warrant of arrest issued by the said Ulric Lafontaine in his above stated capacity is null and illegal and could not warrant the arrest of the petitioner, the court rejects the said motion of the United States, intervening party, to quash the said writs of habeas corpus addressed to me on June 21 last, by the said C. A. Valee, doth declare the arrest and detention of the said petitioner illegal and doth annul and set aside the said warrant of arrest.

Knox Declines Comment.

It is ordered that the petitioners be liberated and discharged from the custody of C. A. Valee, jailer of Montreal, and of Charles Langelier, sheriff of Quebec, who have present custody of them, and this order will be the warrant of the said C. A. Valee and of the Hon. Charles Langelier, for the complete and immediate release of the prisoners.

BEVERLY, MASS., Aug. 13.—Attorney-General Knox was informed by the Associated Press tonight of the release of Greene and Gaynor at Quebec and also was shown Judge Caron's decision. He read the latter carefully and then said:

"I have nothing to say in regard to Judge Caron's decision. It would be highly improper and extremely indelicate for me to make any comment on any decision of a foreign court in which the United States government is involved, especially when the case goes against the government."

WAITED FORTY HOURS FOR HER RECREANT HUSBAND.

After waiting for 40 hours to meet her husband, whom she wedded on Saturday, Helen Jones of Oil City reluctantly went to the Central police station yesterday afternoon and in tears told the police of the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Charles E. Jones of East Pittsburgh.

Helen is a country girl of 20 years. Her husband is a brakeman, 10 years her senior. They met a few months ago and on Saturday they were married in Oil City. They remained there until Monday, when they decided to come to Pittsburgh.

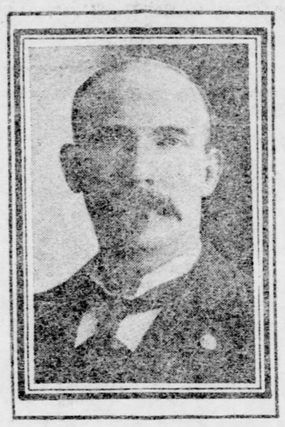
The groom said that he would take her to his home in East Pittsburgh. At the station in Oil City he remembered that he had left one of their satchels at the hotel. She complained that she was too tired to go back with him for it. The young husband said he would return to the hotel and she could go to Pittsburgh alone and he would meet her at the Union station.

The young bride arrived at the station early Tuesday morning and remained there until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She appeared at the police station, tear-stained and broken-hearted, still clad in her wedding garments, told her story and said that she was penniless.

No one by the name of Charles E. Jones, brakeman, could be found in East Pittsburgh by the police, and the young wife was sent to the home of her parents, on a farm just outside of Oil City.

GOES AS DELEGATE TO BRITISH TRADES CONGRESS

President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh district organization of the United Mine Workers of America leaves tonight for New York, whence he will sail Saturday as fraternal delegate from the American Federation of Labor to attend the British Trades congress, opening in London September 1. His selection for the mission is an honor which fell to only two of the more than 2,000,000 members of the Federation.



PATRICK DOLAN.

In London he will have to explain to the Welsh tinplate workers the plan proposed by the iron workers' officials of this country, which scheme, by a wage reduction for the men, would have held here contracts for 1,500,000 boxes of tin plate which for years has been sent from Wales.

In a word, he will stamp the move with disapproval. Last night the Pittsburgh executive board members of the miners and others gave a farewell banquet to Dolan, which was strictly an affair within the organization.

Patrick Dolan has been a miner since he was 9 years old. He was born at Coatbridge, Lanarkshire, Scotland, in 1858. Since 1870 he has been in the organization of his craft. Soon after his coming to this country he became an officer in the local organizations of miners, entering the district organization as an executive board member, in 1895, and the next year he became the district president, which office he has since held, being one of the most aggressive leaders in the great coal strike of 1897.

OFFICIALS SPIKE RAILROAD RUMORS

Revival of Elevated Wharf-Line and Wabash-Lake Erie Fight Denied.

The information regarding the plans of the Wabash given on Sunday and succeeding days in The Gazette has started a number of rumors about the plans of other roads, bearing upon the Wabash propositions. These stories deal with the supposed interference which the Wabash is to receive from other lines, over which there seems to be less worry felt by the Wabash itself, and the lines from which the trouble is to come than by any one else. The Lake Erie, which the Wabash is to parallel, is one of the lines which is reported as about to move heaven and earth to defeat the plan.

The Baltimore & Ohio-Pennsylvania plan to build elevated tracks down the Allegheny and Monongahela wharves to warehouses on the point and effect a belt line has also been revived as a means of stopping the Wabash at Ferry street. When this plan was under consideration last spring it was told in full in The Gazette.

General Manager George L. Potter of the Baltimore & Ohio, who is in town on business, denied yesterday that the Baltimore & Ohio has any plans whatever for present use in regard to the proposed elevated lines down the wharves of the Allegheny and the Monongahela in connection with the Pennsylvania railroad. "There is nobody working in the interest of the Baltimore & Ohio on this," he said, "who has at present definite plans. The matter has been discussed from time to time, but there is nothing in the present report."

John G. Robinson, secretary and treasurer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, denied yesterday that the Lake Erie had either filed objections to the bond of the Wabash in regard to the property the Wabash has condemned or that it had made the reported offer of $100,000 higher than that of the Wabash for the Robinson-Rea property. "Both of these reports are all news to me," he said. "As I understand it, the Wabash now has the Robinson-Rea property and there would be no use in making a higher bid since the deal is closed. I have no knowledge whatever of the Lake Erie preparing to oppose the entrance of the Wabash into the South Side mill district."

ALL FOUR COUNTIES SEEKING THE HONOR

Republicans of Twenty-First Congresssional District Have Hard Fight on—Democrats Tame.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DUBOIS, PA., Aug. 13.—This town will be full of politicians for the next two or three days. Tomorrow the Republican conferees of the Twenty-first congressional district, comprising the counties of Clearfield, McKean, Cameron and Center, will meet here to select a candidate, and on Friday the Democratic conferees of the district meet here to select a man.

Each of the four counties send their conferees here instructed to support a man from their own county, and the fight is expected to be warm.

Only two of the candidates, S. R. Dresser of Bradford and W. C. Arnold of this city were in town today and very few of the conferees arrived tonight, but all will be in by noon tomorrow.

Col. Barclay of Sinnemahoning is the candidate of Cameron county, and Dr. W. J. Locke of Bellefonte is the Center county man.

The Democratic conference is expected to be tame. So far only one man has been announced in the district. That is D. E. Hibner of DuBois, one of the county's most prominent citizens.

TO ELIMINATE CURVES.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company Will Bridge the Conemaugh in Packsaddle District.

It was rumored in railroad circles here yesterday that it is the purpose of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to eliminate many of the curves along the main line of the system, especially along the Conemaugh river, in the Packsaddle district. Plans for this work have not been completed, but to do the work projected will require a large expenditure.

The only manner the engineers of the company figure that these curves can be done away with is to bridge the Conemaugh river, and it is understood that it is the intention of the company to erect four new bridges in the Packsaddle district in four miles of roadbed. It is said that a corps of engineers is now working on the proposed changes, but they will not be completed until much of the work on the Pittsburgh division of the road has been finished.

The Packsaddle has always been one of the most dangerous pieces of road on the Pennsylvania system, and many serious wrecks have occurred there. Two weeks ago the fast mail jumped the track in the Packsaddle, killing two men, injuring several others and demolishing the engine and coaches, which rolled over a 200-foot cliff into the river.

QUAY IS AWAITING SOME SUGGESTION

Willing to Help Settle Mine Strike, but Must Hear from Those Directly Concerned.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 13.—Senator Quay is still awaiting suggestions from those who are said to be seeking his aid in settling the strike of the anthracite miners. Senator Quay was asked if he had any suggestions to make to the miners or operators, and he replied that he had none. He will do all that he can in the interests of settlement, but is unable to offer any suggestion bearing upon the matter.

He cannot act until propositions have been received from those directly concerned in the strike or in the movement to bring about a settlement. When that has been done he will exert his influence in favor of a satisfactory adjustment of the trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Senator Penrose today, in discussing the anthracite coal strike, made the following statement:

"Both Senator Quay and myself have always been ready to receive any delegation from the miners and do all in our power to bring an end to the present trouble. For a long time past this question has been receiving our attention, and if there is anything we can do towards settling the difficulties it will be done."

BRIGHAM IN PITTSBURGH.

Man Charged With Beating Local Company Out of $2,500 Is Brought Here.

Paul Brigham was placed in jail last night by Roger O'Mara to await a hearing next Wednesday, before Alderman Anderson, on charges of forgery and false pretense.

Brigham was arrested in Boston. O'Mara went after him and reached the city with his prisoner at 7 o'clock last night.

Brigham is 70 years of age. It is said that under the name of Adam Keith he came to Pittsburgh last December and made an agreement to buy $10,000 worth of stock in the Henry S. Mould Company and loan the company $15,000. He gave the company's representatives two checks on the Merchants National bank of Boston. One was for $15,000 to cover the loan. The other was for $12,500, which was to pay for the $10,000 worth of stock and repay $100 in cash he had been given, and to cover $2,500 in cash he then received. The checks were forgeries, and this forms the basis of the suit.

AMERICANS COMING HOME.

J. P. Morgan and Clement A. Griscom on Oceanic—Duchess of Marlborough on Kronprinz Wilhelm.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—(Copyright Cable.)—With the departure of the Kronprinz Wilhelm and the Oceanic there was such an exodus of Americans from London as has not occurred before on any one day of the season. Two long trains were required to convey the Oceanic's passengers to Liverpool. The duchess of Marlborough, who left on the Kronprinz Wilhelm, had quite a gathering at the station to see her off.

J. Pierpont Morgan's name did not appear in the passenger list of the Oceanic, but he and his daughter, Anna, sailed on that vessel. There was a large party at Euston station to wish Mr. Morgan bon voyage.

Mr. Morgan, who has refused to be interviewed during his whole stay over here, preserved the same attitude to the last, and declined to answer any questions. Clement A. Griscom, who was another passenger, declared that the only news he had was that he was sailing for home.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 13.—B. E. Arons, a diamond merchant of Pittsburgh, who has his summer home at Angola, was nearly drowned yesterday afternoon in the lake off that resort.

In company with A. L. Bowden, a young man connected with a press bureau of Pittsburgh, he set out for a sail in a large flat-bottomed fishing skiff. About a mile out the boat hit either a rock on the reef or some sunken obstacle and filled with water. Both men clung to the submerged boat for a time. No help was in sight, so they determined to make their way ashore before they became too exhausted for the effort.

Mr. Bowden is an expert swimmer and he assisted his companion in. The lake was not very rough, but the task was a hard one and severely tried Mr. Bowden's strength. He persevered, however, and managed to swim to the shoal water with his then helpless companion.

Mr. Bowden staggered up the beach and some fishermen, observing the men's plight, hastened to their assistance. The men were taken to a shanty on the beach and shortly afterward removed to Mr. Arons' cottage.

Medical aid was summoned. Both men were very much exhausted and for a time it was feared that Mr. Arons would not survive the shock. The news was telephoned into town and Mr. Arons' sister and a local physician left for Angola last evening.

SISCO BECOMING KNOWN.

Superintendent of Ohio Reformatory Says He Escaped From There.

Another cloud has been cast over J. H. Sisco, the trusted servant of Robert Pitcairn, who robbed him of $400 and gave Detective William McElroy the slip when he was bringing him to this city to stand trial.

Yesterday afternoon Acting Police Superintendent Wilson received a letter from J. A. Leonard of the Ohio State reformatory, at Mansfield, O., stating that Sisco is an escaped parole from that institution. Sisco was sent there from Cleveland, January 4, 1900, for grand larceny. He was paroled April 19, 1901.

MRS. DEACON ASKS MATIN TO DROP IT

SAYS THERE IS NO TRUTH IN DAUGHTER'S LOVE STORY.

Americans in London Declare It Is Revival of Old Tale Started When German Crown Prince Visited That City a Year Ago.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

PARIS, Aug. 14.—The Matin this morning publishes a denial from Mrs. Deacon of the reported love affair between her daughter and the crown prince of Germany.

In a pathetic appeal to the editor of the Matin, she asks that paper not to mention her daughter's name again. The Matin consequently announces that it will cease the publication of the series of stories it has been printing on the subject.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Americans whom I saw in London today were inclined to discredit the rumor published in the Matin that the crown prince of Germany wished to renounce his rank and right to succession in order to wed Miss Gladys Deacon. A gentleman who is in a position to know told me that the Matin story is simply a revival of a rumor current last year, when the crown prince visited England.

"The young prince," said this gentleman, "met Miss Deacon and was at several public parties where she was a guest. He was very attractive to her, and it was believed that the kaiser called his son back to Germany because he thought he was too young to be paying atttentions to any woman. Miss Deacon is a beautiful girl and was at many smart functions last season, usually with the duchess of Marlborough, who has taken quite a fancy to her."

GOVERNOR IS ARRESTED.

Chief Executive of California Charged With Criminal Libel.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Aug. 13.—Gov. Henry T. Gage was arrested today by a detective of San Francisco, who served on him a warrant charging him with criminal libel, the warrant having been sworn to by the proprietor of the San Francisco Call.

The governor was immediately afterward released on a writ of habeas corpus.

Policemen Are In Jail.

Chief of Police J. J. Somerville and Officer Isaac Johnson of Donora, who were held by Coroner McGeary, charged with the murder of Mike Babonak, were committed to jail yesterday afternoon.

Weather—Rain. Thursday, August 14, 1902.

The good will of a successful store is a better asset than its stock. Over a half century of good will is back of this store.

Shirtwaist Suits, $8.50.

Lots of shirtwaist suits at that price, but they are worth only $8.50, not a cent more. But this price of $8.50 is less than half what these suits sold for a short while back. Then you would have had to pay either $18 or $22.50.

And there will be plenty of weather yet in which to wear the shirtwaist suit.

Choice of two styles—blouse and jacket. Linen in blue, tan, white and green. Blouse is finished with fancy sailor collar, trimmed with lace. Some of the skirts are pleated, others trimmed with stitched bands and buttons.

New Black Silk Waists, $5.

Peau de Soie finished charmingly—five rows of pin tucks and fagot stitching on front, three rows down back.

Collar and cuffs to match trimming.

Only arrived the other day. A fair example of what will be stylish this coming Fall.

4 to 12-Year-Old Girls' Frocks, $1.50.

Tub frocks that we sold for $3 and $3.75.

The materials are fine dimities and chambrays, plain pinks and blues and contrasting stripes.

Such trimmings as laces, embroideries and piques.

Rubber Sponges.

People who enjoy that tingling sensation given the skin from a rub-down with a rough towel should try these rubber sponges. You get the tingling before you are ready for the towel.

Easily kept clean, last much longer than the ordinary sponge, and are altogether more delightful.

Prices 50c, 75c, $1 and $1.50.

We carry about every kind of sponge that grows, ranging in price from 5c up to $2.

King Ed's Pin Cushion.

A little piece of utility formed in the shape of the coronation car that King Edward intended to ride in the first day set for the coronation. It is both a pin cushion and a tape measure, and the price only 50c.

Other hints of notions—

Pin Cubes, assorted pins, regular 15c kind for 8c a cube.

Odorless Dress Shields, silk covered, washable and ironable, 25c a pair, were 30c, 35c and 40c.

Cotton Felt Mattresses, $12.

You could not get a better mattress, either as to solidity of the cotton, the quality of the ticking or the firmness of the tufting, were you to pay twice twelve dollars.

There is no secret about the making of felt mattresses. The process is simply the laying of the cotton compactly, and giving to it such a pressure that it will not become indented here and there.

That's all there is to it, except that in ours we use a better grade of cotton, and a cleaner and a whiter, than is usually used in felt mattresses costing more money.

Some people have declared felt mattresses the equal of hair mattresses. It is admitted they are equal to the common run of hair mattresses, but we must decline to agree they are the equal of the hair mattresses we make.

And that leads us to say we build several grades of Hair Mattresses, using only best horse hair and best ticking.

Full size mattresses, $20, $28, $35, $39.50, $45.

The gradation of prices arises from the different grades of hair, just as there are different grades of wool.

Girls' King Shirtwaist, 50c.

Some Stars at that price also. Both sold for $2 and $2.50.

You would never get these fine waists for 50c were it not for the fact there are only 10 and 12-year-old sizes.

Madras in white and fancy stripes and plain ginghams.

Fine Hair Brushes, $1.

We imported them ourselves, and that is the secret of our being able to sell them for $1.

Regular $1.50 brush, and worth that money, too.

But this store is known for its little prices on fine goods.

INDIAN TROOPS MARCH BEFORE KING EDWARD

Gaudy Costumes Mark Contrast to Khaki Uniforms of British Regulars.

OVATION GREETS QUEEN

His Majesty Wears Rich Jeweled Sword Presented to Him by Maharajah of Jaipur—Little Princes Act as Aides.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Aug. 13.—The Indian coronation troops, to the number of 1,300, were reviewed by King Edward at Buckingham palace this afternoon. The arrangements were similar to those of yesterday, when a body of colonials was reviewed. The Prince of Wales presented medals to the men, who are all picked troops, including Lord Curzon's bodyguard. They presented a fine spectacle in their handsome vari-colored uniforms. The Princess Victoria and other royal personages took snap-shot pictures while the ceremony was in progress. Queen Alexandra and many notables were present. The king wore a jeweled sword that cost $50,000, which was presented to him yesterday by the maharajah of Jaipur.

The scene on the terrace was a very brilliant one, the European military and levee dress being quite outshone by the splendid apparel of the Indian princes. The queen wore a heliotrope costume with a small toque of the same shade. She received a greater ovation than the king as both passed down a line of notables, bowing and shaking hands. The young sons of the prince of Wales, the Princes Edward and Albert, constituted themselves aides to the king and fetched several general officers, who smilingly obeyed their summons to an audience with their grandfather.

The great lawn beyond the terrace was a marvelous sight in red, yellow, green and blue. The Bengalese Sikhs, Gurkhas and Punjab cavalry made a strong contrast to a single khaki spot, where the British regulars from India stood. At the word of command, fluttering lances, rifles and carbines were grounded and the contingents, one by one, filed past the royal canopy, saluting their majesties and receiving medals at the hands of the prince of Wales.

At the close of the review the troops were drawn up in front of the king, who addressed the officers as follows:

"I wish to convey to all ranks the high satisfaction it has given me to see this splendid contingent from India. I almost feared, owing to my serious illness, that I would be prevented from having the advantage of seeing you, but I am glad to say that by God's mercy I am well again. I recognize among you many of the regiments I had the advantage of seeing at Delhi during my tour of India. I hope the contingent has enjoyed its stay in England and that all may return in safety to their homes. I wish you to convey these sentiments from me to all ranks of your command."

FOUR WERE INJURED IN STREET CAR WRECK

One Woman Seriously Hurt and Three Others Slightly in East End Collision.

A rapidly running car, with a green motorman, on the Larimer avenue line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, collided with a wagon on Shetland avenue about 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The car contained three women and a man when the impact came. The car was badly demolished and the wagon almost torn to pieces. The car was knocked from the track against a telephone pole, which it tore and split. The motorman escaped injury. The only person seriously injured was Mrs. A. C. Myers of Perth Amboy, N. J., who was sent to the East End hospital. She sustained a compound fracture of the left leg.

The accident occurred on Shetland avenue, a short distance east of Larimer avenue. Christ Welstein, a driver for the H. J. Heinz Company, who was delivering goods to a Shetland avenue firm, had left his team standing between the tracks and the curb. The car crashed into the wagon, which was too close to the tracks.

The car caught one of the wheels of the wagon and in an instant the street was covered with the product of the Heinz factory. Live wires were knocked down, and for a time the scene of the collision was one of great excitement. In the third seat from the rear sat a member of the Salvation Army and his wife. Their names could not be learned, but it is said they escaped from the wreck with slight injuries, but badly shaken up.

In a seat behind them were seated Mrs. A. C. Myers and her sister, Mrs. Katie Belfer of Sheridan avenue. They were sitting on the side nearest the wagon and were pinioned between the seats. Mrs. Myers' left leg was fractured below the knee, the bones protruding through her stocking. Mrs. Belfer is said to have escaped serious injury, and accompanied her sister to the East End hospital in the traction company's emergency wagon.

At the East End hospital the physician stated that Mr. Myers, who is a foreman in the large cable works at Perth Amboy, had been notified of the accident to his wife. She was resting easily, and it was not thought that amputation would be necessary.

When the car struck the wagon, one of the horses became frightened and getting loose started across Shetland avenue toward Larimer. It ran into Mrs. James Merkel of Shetland avenue. She is almost 70 years of age, and was so badly frightened from the shock that she had to be assisted home.

Hotel Metropole Reopens.

Several Pittsburgh nomads return to their home today. The Hotel Metropole in Fourth avenue, which was closed by the health department two weeks ago, is again open for business, and its regular boarders, many of whom were caught on the outside, have all returned to find the place very much as when they were barred out by the unfeeling police. The house was entirely renovated, and even looks improved by its forced temporary retirement from business.

A Habit That Counts.

It's never too late to mend, nor are you ever too young to begin. If you would join the army of youthful economists now by opening a 4 per cent interest-bearing savings account with the Standard Security Trust Company, 209-213 Fourth avenue, the manifold advantages of this "saving habit" would increase and multiply with each succeeding year.

BANQUET TO WU AT $20 A PLATE

RICHEST EVENT IN HISTORY OF NEW YORK CHINATOWN.

Party Goes Through Whole List of Oriental Delicacies from Birds' Nests and Sharks' Fins to Spring Squab and Mushroom Chicken.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Minister Wu Ting Fang was the guest at a farewell dinner given this afternoon by the various societies of Chinatown, and partook of the most toothsome dishes that the Chinese chefs can prepare. The feast was in the Mon Par Low restaurant at 14 Mott street, and began at 2 o'clock.

Loo Lin, the proprietor, charged between $20 and $25 a plate. The banquet was, in fact, the most costly ever held in Manhattan's Chinatown, and was under the immediate supervision of Secretary Wu of the Chinese embassy, who is a member of the same distinguished Chinese family as Minister Wu himself.

At the close of the banquet the ministerial party paid a call on the Chinese consul, at one of his offices, in the Joss house, No. 20 Mott street. Mr. Wu and his secretaries then left Chinatown for Washington, where he will remain until relieved by his successor, Sir Ling Cheng Tung.

Among the dainties provided today were spring duck, fruit, chicken, edible birds' nest, sharks' fins, yellow fish brain, chicken salad, broiled mushrooms, lychee nuts, yam, ginger, pears, pineapple, rice, boneless fish, crab omelette, fried spring squab and mushroom chicken.

NEXT WEEK'S BILLS AT LOCAL THEATERS

Empire Opens With Thrilling Comedy-Drama—Opera Comique and Burlesque at Other Houses.

Pittsburgh's 1902-3 theatrical season is getting into full swing, and it will be only a short time until all the places of amusement will be open. Prosperity holds such high sway in this section now that all the theaters are certain to share in the very satisfactory returns that every enterprise is now reaping.

Another theater, the Empire, on Collins avenue, East End, will open for the season next Monday. The title of the thrilling comedy-drama to be presented is "For Love and Honor." It is said that realism in the modern drama has never been carried to the extremes presented in this attraction. The opening of a railway with a full-sized mechanical train, bands playing and flags flying, opens the performance. A thrilling scene of the race track at Saratoga, a daring attempt to tap the wires and rob the bookmakers, Wall street with its hustling brokers, an office scene with busy elevators, and an attempted murder in a big vault are other features. The climax comes with a great explosion scene.

At Duquesne garden next week the summer stock opera company will be seen in the Japanese musical play, "The Geisha." This work, which comes as near being an opera comique as anything that has been done in recent years, is one of the greatest musical comedies ever done in London and equaled the success which "Florodora" enjoyed in this country. Edith Mason will be cast as "O Mimosa San," and Mary Carrington will play "Molly Seymour." Bessie Tannehill will be heard as "Lady Constance," Robert S. Pigott as the "Marquis of Imira." Thomas H. Persse will sing the role of "Reginald Fairfax" and Charles H. Drew will be seen as the Chinaman. The special features in the Palm garden will embrace an unusually strong bill. Sallie Fisher, who created such a furore in this city last season, has been re-engaged and will appear each night after the regular performance in a choice selection of new and popular songs, and as an additional feature Dora Ronco, a well-known violinist, will also be heard.

R. M. Gulick and F. J. McNulty, for their second week's attraction at the new Bijou, have secured the new original pantomime trick farce-comedy, "Zig Zag Alley," said to be a big whirling wheel of fun, with no end of mechanical effects, pantomimic tricks, gorgeous scenery and pretty music. At the head of the company, which numbers 35 people, are Jolly Zeb and Happy Zarrow. Others are the European gymnasts and pantomimists, the Brothers Damm; Martinetti and Sutherland, Ben T. Dillon, Goff Phillipps, Louise Dempsey, Blanch Bryant, Carrie Eckert, Andrew O'Neil, Selger Sisters, Geo. Lynne, Frank Markey, Amy Mortimer and the English pantomimists, the Brothers Kennebel, who introduce their new trick, the hansom cab and ridiculous mule. There is a chorus of pretty girls with trained voices. The author has used three elopements as a basis for a lot of comical situations.

Rush's Bon Ton Burlesquers company, which comes to the Academy next week, is always one of the popular attractions at this place of amusement. Frank Byron, the leading comedian of the company, is said to be funnier than ever, and as he is surrounded by a clever company, the show is bound to be a big hit.

OUTLINES HIS OBJECTIONS.

Controller Larkin Tells Director Leslie About Hospital.

City Controller John B. Larkin yesterday sent to Director A. H. Leslie a communication in which the controller went more deeply into his objections to the manner in which the city government is arranging to construct the municipal hospital. The controller reviews the history of the agitation that led to placing in the bond issue $500,000 to be expended in the construction of a municipal hospital. He shows that this money was diverted from the uses for which it was voted until only $125,000 remains, and the department of public safety only proposes to use a part of that for the purpose.

The controller sarcastically runs over the agreements that were made at the time the bond money was voted, and then suggests that the distinguished medical men who advocated the cottage hospitals should come forward and give their views of the manner in which their ideas have been carried out.

SCOUTS WATCH FOR APPROACH OF GENDARMES

DOORS BATTERED DOWN

Peasants of St. Meen Threaten to Throw Hives of Bees Among the Troops—Count Miribel Sentenced to Prison for Breaking Seal.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Brest, France, Aug. 13.—Soldiers have been requisitioned in several places in Finisterre during the last two or three days to protect police commissaries engaged in closing religious schools. Thirteen schools belonging to white sisters remain unclosed in Finisterre. The inhabitants of Folgoet today built a wall of masonry behind the principal door of the church school.

At St. Meen scouts on horses, bicycles, and even automobiles, are seconnoitering in order to give alarm of the coming of the police. The peasants declare they will throw bee hives among the gendarmes and will put bee hives in the barricades.

The expulsion of the sisters at Concarneau was undertaken today. Scouts on automobiles reached the town at 2 o'clock in the morning from Quimper and reported that troops were on the way. The tocsin was rung, bugles were blown and boys ran through the streets ringing hand bells.

Large crowds gathered around the railroad station and the school. Several bodies of gendarmes and two companies of infantry arrived by a special train. The commissary ordered the school evacuated, at which the crowd shouted, "Long live the sisters." The gendarmes advanced toward the school, but were repulsed and a general scrimmage followed. Later the troops reached the building and the police tried to break down the doorway with axes, but the resistance of the people continued.

The commissary finally forced an entrance to the school. When this had been accomplished the sisters, amid the vehement protests of the crowd, left the building.

Entrance to the school in the village of Benzec was also forced. Here the sisters, when they emerged from the school building, were conducted to the church by the mayor and a procession of people headed by the national flag draped in crepe.

GRENOBLE, Aug. 13.—Count Miribel has been sentenced to six days' imprisonment for breaking the seals which had been affixed to the nuns' school here. Two sons of the count were fined 20 francs each for insulting the commissary of police. These sentences, however, were reprieved under the first offenders' law.

DETECTIVES MUST LIE LOW

Their Quarters in Safety Palace Too Public—Will Be Moved to the Second Floor.

The "little side door" is to figure in the future work of the Pittsburgh bureau of detectives. Director Leslie has planned to make them real secret police. The director asserts that a great deal of their usefulness is lost through the fact that the sleuths have long occupied a public part of the safety palace and are known by sight to thousands of persons.

The director has a scheme to have their headquarters moved to the second floor of the building, where they will not be exposed to the gaze of the public, and can carry on their operations in secret. It is also to be made a rule that the secret police shall discontinue the use of the main entrance, and slide around through the alleys to the side or rear doors.

The detectives will be furnished with offices and a consulting room on the second floor, and will be expected to hold their conferences there and remain there while waiting for assignments.

FIRING RECORD BROKEN.

Ten Shots from 12-inch Gun With Intervals of 59 Seconds.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—The board of which Col. Randolph is president, appointed to test and report upon the disappearing gun carriages, returned today from Fishers Island, where the tests of the 12, 10 and 6 inch guns mounted on disappearing carriages were made yesterday.

The tests were very satisfactory, especially with the larger guns. Thirty shots were fired from the 10-inch gun with an average interval of 53 seconds. Ten shots were fired from the 12-inch gun, with an average interval of 59 seconds. This broke the record in the firing of guns of such size.

THE VERY BEST PIANO IS THE A. B. CHASE

Everybody has heard of the Vanderbilts, and everybody knows that the Vanderbilts are enormously rich. People of such prominence are before the world all the time, and the fact of their immense wealth becomes public property. One person tells another until, after a while, all the world knows.

The fame of a great piano spreads in the same way.

First, the instrument is admired and talked about by some little group of musicians. Then their friends learn of its merits. And after a while others come to know about it, until, in the course of time, the music-loving people in all parts of the country in which the instrument is made are aware of its superiority.

Take, for example, the magnificent A. B. Chase piano. The makers of this instrument were so well satisfied with their product that at first they made comparatively little effort to advertise it. They preferred that the instrument should advertise itself. And so it has. No vast sums of money were needed to let the world know of the merits of the A. B. Chase piano. It is superior to all other pianos. In fact, comparison is out of the question when artistic qualities of the highest order are considered. The people who conceived it and who manufactured the first instrument of this make are still living and are even more enthusiastic over the product of their skill than ever before. There is nothing suggestive of ancient history in their methods. Their sole object is to produce an ideal piano. And every detail that enters into the structure of this instrument, no matter how small or apparently trifling, is as daintily executed as if it were a gem to adorn a lady's necklace.

The fine quality of the A. B. Chase piano has caused it to receive the most complimentary notices from critics, who have united in calling it an art piano for artists.

In spite of the fact that Hamilton's sell the best instruments that the world produces, and that the list at this old reliable house comprises more different makes than are found elsewhere, the prices are invariably most attractive. You can buy an instrument for $200 at Hamilton's that is fully guaranteed, and you can get one for even less money if you do not care for the particularly fine finish which characterizes the higher grades. Moreover, if you have an old piano you can exchange it as part payment on a new one, no matter what make it is nor what make you desire to get in place of it.

If you cannot call at present, write for such information as you may wish, and send for catalogue.

OPENING OF THE CAMPAIGN WILL BE HASTENED

Probable Action of the Union-its Sets Political Wheels to Moving.

WANDERERS CALLED HOME

Organization Men in Canadian Woods Get Orders—Flinn Flees to the Mountains — Guffey Won't Talk. Von Bonnhorst Goes to See Quay.

The announcement that the Union party, at the convention to be held in Philadelphia on September 3, will indorse the candidates on the Democratic state ticket, stirred up quite a discussion among local politicians yesterday. If the top of the Democratic ticket is indorsed by Unionists it will probably mean that the organization's county candidates will be given a place on the Union ticket.

The activity in local political circles yesterday seems to indicate that the opening of the campaign in Allegheny county will occur much earlier than was expected. It was the original plan of both the Citizens and the organization not to open the campaign formally before September 1.

Now, since it seems assured that the ring will get its candidates on the Union ticket, the Citizens party will be on the alert, and the active campaign will probably start in a few days.

While many prominent politicians are out of the city, the word was circulated yesterday and those away at summer resorts were notified to return home immediately and get into the harness for the big fight. By the middle of next week it is expected that the opening guns of the campaign will be fired, and from that time on until November 4 fierce war will be waged in both county and state politics.

J. M. Guffey Is Not Talking.

Col. J. M. Guffey, the Democratic party leader, yesterday refused absolutely to discuss the plan to have the Union party indorse Pattison and Guthrie. Col. Guffey also refused to be quoted on the scheme to have the Unionists place the organization's county ticket in the lower part of their column.

It is believed, however, that the plan meets with the hearty approval of the Democratic leader, although he is accredited with being allied with the Citizens movement. It is to Col. Guffey's interest and advantage to make the best showing possible for the Democratic state ticket in Allegheny county, and it is thought that he favors the proposed plan of the Union party leaders.

Col. Guffey left last night for a short business trip. He said he expected to return to Pittsburgh Friday morning. As chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic party of Allegheny, he hopes to start the active work of the campaign very shortly.

Another evidence that the campaign is to start much sooner than was expected is that the members of the camping party at Georgian Bay, Can., are all expected to return home next Saturday morning. The party left Pittsburgh about August 1, and it was the intention at that time not to return to the city before September 1.

Flinn Flies Away to the Mountains.

Senator William Flinn was to have joined the party the last two weeks of this month and remain with it until it broke camp, September 1, but he has changed his plans and will go to Mount Lake Park, Md., for a short stay.

W. W. Murray, candidate for county commissioner on the organization ticket, returned from Georgian Bay yesterday morning. He said he did not know any politics except what he had read in the newspapers, but he is authority for the statement that the members of the camping party will break camp much earlier than was anticipated.

Murray was asked what he thought of the Union party proposition to indorse the Democratic state ticket and the organization's county ticket. He stated that he understood the plan would go through, and when asked if he was willing to be candidate on the Union ticket, said he was in favor of it if Judge Pennypacker accepted the nomination of the Citizens party, which he undoubtedly will do.

County Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst, who was appointed a member of the state central Republican committee by Senator Quay last Monday, left last night for Atlantic City to have a conference with the Beaver statesman. Mr. von Bonnhorst expects to drop off in Philadelphia to see several of the party leaders in that city and will possibly confer with Judge Pennypacker.

Von Bonnhorst to Confer With Quay.

It is expected that his conference in Atlantic City will last for a day or so, and Mr. von Bonnhorst does not expect to return to Pittsburgh until next Monday. During the conference the proposed action of the Union party will in all probability be discussed.

Ex-Senator Samuel P. White of New Brighton was yesterday renominated for a four-year term at a meeting of the Republican conferees of Washington and Beaver counties.

Senator White's only opponent was James H. Cunningham of Beaver county, who was counted out of the race for the office some time ago on account of the deal patched up between Senator Quay and Congressman Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, Pa.

PITTSBURGH STEEL FOR IMMENSE PLANT

Carnegie Company Begins Shipments to Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company at Buffalo.

The Carnegie Steel Company has secured the contract for all of the structural steel required in the erection of the great plant that the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company is building near Buffalo.

The material is now being rolled at the Homestead Steel works and first shipments are being made to Buffalo, where active work will be started immediately. Work on the foundations has been completed. The contract for the structural steel is understood to be worth $700,000.

The Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company makes steel rails principally, and it is largely owing to the fact that it closed its mills at Scranton, Pa., for removal nearly a year ago and will not be able to deliver for another six months, thus cutting down the capacity of the country 12 per cent, that there is a shortage of rail production. The Lackawanna company proposes to make Buffalo a rival of Pittsburgh in steel production. The concern increased its capital from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000,000 a short time ago.

Tin Workers' Strike Ends.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The strike of the union tinners of Washington, which has been on since April 15, was settled today. The workmen get a 10 per cent increase in wages, and nine hours constitutes a day's work. After January 1 the men will also be conceded their demand for an eight-hour day.

NAVAL OFFICER IS NOT PLEASED

LIEUT. COMMANDER J. G. QUIMBY AFTER CUSTODIAN HEINER.

He Says That His Recruiting Detail Was Refused Room in Government Building When It Could Have Been Given Them.

Lieut.-Commander John G. Quimby, in charge of the naval recruiting squad, now operating here, is incensed at the action of the custodian of the government building in this city because he was refused the use of one of the many rooms which he says are vacant in the building. He said yesterday:

"The custodian of the government building here is going to hear from Washington in regard to the way he has treated the navy and me personally. When my advance man came back from Wheeling he was informed that the rooms we had could not be again obtained owing to a civil service examination, and that there was not a place in the building I could have. Half of it is vacant at this time of year.

"We had to take this little back room here at No. 404 Smithfield street. This hampered us in our work. The custodian has ignored my simple request, keeps away from me and ignores communications, and I have reported him. I have ascertained that the examination for which he kept two large rooms was for seven applicants."

Misunderstanding Probable.

D. B. Heiner of Kittanning is custodian of the building and could not be located last night to reply to the statement of Lieut. Quimby, but his friends say that there must be some misunderstanding, as he certainly would have allowed the recruiting detail the use of any rooms not otherwise occupied, if they were entitled to them.

"We are doing well in Pittsburgh, nevertheless," said Lieut.-Commander Quimby. "We secured about 70 on our first visit and will get about 30 this trip. Let me say right here that they are a better class of young men than we generally get. There are very few rejections. Pittsburgh young men are workers. Because of the smoke it is necessary for people here to bathe. The hard work and plenty of bathing develop your young men, and make them just as we want them for the navy.

May Be Permanent.

"I am sure that the secretary of the navy will give this a thought when he acts on my recommendation that Pittsburgh be made a permanent recruiting station for the navy. The only permanent recruiting stations now are where there are receiving ships. I hope that the recommendation will be acted on favorably, of course, because I made it, and I hope that I will be assigned to Pittsburgh. I want to live in your smoke and dirt.

"I spoke to a friend of the smoke. 'Yes,' he said, 'we have the smoke, but let me tell you that it is raining dollars down on Pittsburgh.' I guess that's right, too, and I'd like to stay in a place where everybody can make money. Perhaps I could, also.

"But back to the recruits. Let me tell you that the American navy today was never in better condition. When I entered the service, well, say 25 years ago, about 20 per cent of the sailors were Americans. Now 81 per cent are Americans, and we soon will have an American navy to be proud of."

PIG IRON PRODUCTION IS SOMEWHAT REDUCED

Scarcity of Fuel Still Worst Feature of Trade—Business for Future Shipment Still Good.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Iron Age will say tomorrow:

Our monthly furnace statistics show that we entered August with a reduced capacity, 338,465 tons of pig iron, against 350,800 tons on July 1, which is due chiefly to the blowing out of a few large furnaces in the central west. In spite of the fact that July was a month of 31 days, the production was only 1,476,000 tons. A part of this falling off is due to the anthracite coal strike, which causes a deficiency of about 35,000 tons a month, as contrasted with the normal make, while the coal miners' troubles in the south, of short duration in Alabama, account for a reduced make of about 40,000 tons. Quite a number of the stacks in the central west, too, have not been working up to full limit, which is caused by irregularity in the fuel supply. It looks as though for some months to come we cannot expect an average of much more than 1,500,000 tons per month, and then everything must run quite smoothly.

A fair additional amount of foundry pig iron has been sold for delivery during the first half of 1903, and it appears that the tonnage thus far booked is so large that the furnace interests are not disposed to push business for the present. The majority of the southern sellers have withdrawn from the market for foundry grades at $17 50 for No. 2 Birmingham, 1903 delivery, and are asking more money. The bulk of the tonnage has been placed in the central west, nearly all leading interests having shared in the buying; in the east only a few large founders have covered.

It appears that Virginia and Alabama makers have placed quite a large tonnage in the aggregate of basic pig at about $17 50 at furnace for the first half of 1903. Mills in the St. Louis district, the Indiana gas belt and the Chicago district have been the principal buyers.

In the steel trade the importers are displaying renewed activity and somewhat larger sales have been effected of foreign billets for delivery during the closing months of the year. Pressure from abroad is growing, since makers already seem to realize that they must lower their prices to effect sales. Some of the steel works in the central west are showing a growing disposition to place some tonnage on the market.

An interesting report is current that a block of 15,000 tons of German muck bar has been sold for shipment to the west. Quite a good deal of foreign scrap is also offered and some sales of foreign old iron rails have been effected. In heavy melting scrap buyers and importers are somewhat apart.

Some good orders have been placed for structural material, among them one lot of 6,000 tons for bridge work on the New Haven road at Bridgeport, Conn. The demand for structural material outlines heavy and there is a good deal of talk of importations of foreign beams and angles, some estimates of the quantity booked running over 25,000 tons. In the midst of this rush there comes the threatened sympathetic strike of the bridge workers.

CALL TO COMPOSERS.

Sousa Wants More Contributions for Pittsburgh Composers' Night at the Exposition.

The call from Sousa for compositions of Pittsburghers to be played by his band on "Pittsburgh Composers'" night at the new Pittsburgh exposition has called forth a large number of responses, and the evening gives promise of being a notable and important one.

Leo Oehmler has presented a gavotte entitled "Sweet Simplicity," also an orchestral intermezzo, "Fatima," Paul Flautz of McKeesport has handed in two marches, "The American Boys in Blue" and the "Gladiator." Ad M. Foerster has written a composition entitled "At Twilight," while a daughter of Stephen Foster has taken great care with a march composed for the occasion.

Sousa writes from Atlantic City that there is still room on the program, and he urges local composers to assist him in making "Pittsburgh Composers'" night one reflecting credit upon the city's musicians. He is not entering upon the task in any half-hearted manner, but with the enthusiasm that marks all his best efforts. He is more than eager to lend a helping hand to Pittsburghers, who, he declares, are his dearest and most loyal friends.

Sousa's first concert will take place on the night of Wednesday, September 3, when the exposition opens for its fourteenth, and prospectively, most successful season.

A Strike Averted.

Grocers will never encounter any "strike" on part of their customers in case they procure their eggs from the Keystone Commercial Company, 55 to 79 Carson street, South Side. Largest dealers in fresh eggs and poultry. Lowest market rates.

INDEPENDENTS HAD SECRET PLAN OF OPERATIONS

Plan to Block Game of Opposition Companies and Labor Organization.

COMPLICATES CONDITIONS

Independent Factories That Want to Start Early Signed Scale With Denny Men, That is Provisional on Action Taken at Atlantic City.

The Denny organization of window glass workers and the officers of the Independent Glass Company are parties to a scheme which will further complicate conditions in the window glass business. It has been currently supposed that the recent wage meeting between these parties at Columbus, O., made no arrangements for settlement of the scale. The truth of the matter came to the surface yesterday.

An agreement was reached, which is a provisional one. For the factories that want to start early the agreement continues the high wages of the end of last fire, with an additional advance of 15 per cent to the cutters. Officers of the Independent Glass Company refused to sign the scale, but agreed to it for the approval of the concerns which are members of this selling company. These companies are offered the scale for an early start, which in many instances is promised before the middle of next month.

Independent Scheme.

The scale has been printed and is ready for the concerns prepared to start. The independent company officials preferred not to sign the scale for all members because of expected changes in the organization of the company to be made at the meeting now on in Atlantic City. At the same time, if the scheme of the independent workers and manufacturers is carried out it will spoil the plan of the American and Federation window glass companies and the Burns organization of workers to suspend the start, so that the American may dispose of its present heavy stock of glass.

The American company plan this year, as usual, has been to get the Independent company people to sign the scale first. The Independent company has dodged this by arranging that its members may start their factories with a continuation of the old scale and the advance to the cutters on the condition that whatever wage is arranged by the American company is to rule for all accepting the Denny scale.

Was to Be Kept Secret.

The terms of the deal were to be held in absolute secrecy until after the Independent company went through with its plan of reorganization at Atlantic City and the American and Federation companies and the jobbers had held their meeting. To this purpose a report has gone out that the Columbus conference split on a proposition of the manufacturers to renew the scale made at Buffalo, N. Y., last year, which provides wages from 10 to 15 per cent less than those of the end of the fire.

The entire scheme is that of the executives of the Independent Glass Company. After the little differences expected to be threshed over at Atlantic City are disposed of constituents of this company may go ahead with the factory start and secure some of the best workers from the Burns ranks.

Cutters Receive Losses.

The wage advance to cutters, which the Independent company executives have agreed to provisionally, results from an almost unanimous demand of the recent convention of the Denny organization at Cleveland. There it was decided to demand a scale that would restore a difference, which the cutters lost, about the time that their own organization went to pieces and the Denny organization was formed.

President J. R. Johnson and other officials of the Federation Window Glass Company stopped in Pittsburgh last night on their way to Atlantic City, for which place they will leave on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this morning. This meeting will be to complete the organization of the company.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Recognition Day Celebrated With Prof. Howard Griggs as Orator.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—This is the day we celebrate at Chautauqua, the greatest day in the whole season, recognition day, on which occur the graduating exercises of the class of 1902.

The weather was all that could be desired, and the outdoor exercises, consisting of processions, passing under the arches, through the golden gate, and the ceremonies in the hall of the grove were carried out as pre-arranged. Among those who were graduated today were a native of Japan, two from Santiago, one from Australia and a man 84 years of age.

The class drew up resolutions of respect for the late Dr. John Henry Barrows, president of the class, who was to have been the orator of the day.

At the opening of the exercises in the amphitheater, Dr. George E. Vincent, principal of instruction, made a few remarks concerning the future of Chautauqua, and made several important announcements. He said Chautauqua was about to be the recipient of two very valuable gifts, to be made public at an early date; that a business man's club had been organized, and that $3,000 had been subscribed for a club building which would be completed before next season; also that a new hall of philosophy of stone, to replace the wooden one now in use, was in prospect and would probably be ready by next summer.

Prof. Howard Griggs, who is by far the most popular lecturer Chautauqua ever had, delivered the recognition day address, taking for his subject "The Margin of Leisure." Dr. Griggs laid great stress on the use of leisure moments, and said a person's character could be read by noticing what he did when he was pleasing himself, and the best time to study a nation was when it was at leisure and having a holiday.

He naturally touched upon the reading one did. He gave the newspapers a little dab, but came down hardest on the cheap magazines, which he says are an insult to good intellect and earnest thought. The so-called popular novel came in for its share of censure.

This afternoon Bishop Vincent presented diplomas to those who finished the prescribed reading of the Chautauqua literary scientific circle, and this evening, a reception was held in the hall for the graduates.

LARKIN IS PUSHING EVA BROWN'S CASE

RECORDER BROWN PROMISES TO LOOK INTO ARMSTRONG END.

Director Leslie Assures Controller Larkin That Speedy Investigation Will Be Made and a Report Given Not Later Than Friday—Bailey on the Carpet.

City Recorder J. O. Brown has become interested in the case of Eva May Brown, the East End domestic who was arrested and fined for alleged street walking when she was not guilty of the offense. Controller John B. Larkin, who has taken up the girl's cause, reported the case to Recorder Brown yesterday, and the recorder promised to see that the investigation is thorough. Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety yesterday notified Controller Larkin that he has started an investigation, and that he will have a report on the case not later than Friday.

Recorder Brown had had no intimation of the trouble until he received the notice of the controller, but a few minutes later Director Leslie appeared and reported the case to the recorder as it had been stated to him by the controller.

The consent of Recorder Brown was needed to investigate the connection of Magistrate John H. Armstrong with the affair, although the conduct of the policeman who made the arrest will be investigated by the police bureau. Magistrate Armstrong is responsible to Recorder Brown, and to no one else, and the recorder has notified him to present himself as soon as possible and explain his side of the case.

"I shall make a rigid investigation of the matter," said Director Leslie yesterday. "The charges that are made by the young woman need investigation, and they shall have it, but when it comes to the police magistrate I have nothing to do with that. Magistrates are appointed by the recorder and are responsible to no one but him."

The recorder would say nothing about the case yesterday for publication, reserving any statement until he learns just what the conduct of the officer and the magistrate was. Recorder Brown has always gone on record as being strictly opposed to overbearing methods, and many a patrolman has lost his place through blunders into which his pompousness led him.

Director Leslie yesterday sent to Controller Larkin the following communication:

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 12th, regarding the arrest of Eva May Brown, and have requested an investigation and report in this matter not later than Friday. The same will be submitted to you immediately after it is filed here.

Patrolman P. G. Bailey, who arrested G. B. Armstrong, Jr., in front of his own place of business because he would not move on, has been ordered to appear before the police board and answer charges that have been made against him. The hearing is to be had next Monday. George B. Armstrong, Sr., and his son have been notified to appear as witnesses against Bailey. The elder Armstrong said yesterday:

"If the board will give me satisfaction for the outrage I am willing to let the matter drop. If I do not get proper treatment then I shall appeal to court. I will not allow such action on the part of any man to go unpunished."

ATLANTIC CITY.

Mrs. W. J. Lamberd of Johnstown Robbed of Handbag Containing Money and Jewelry.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—While strolling along the beach watching the bathers Mrs. William J. Lamberd, wife of Alderman Lamberd of Johnstown, Pa., was robbed by a shrewd thief. She felt a sudden jerk at her right wrist and discovered that the strings holding her handbag had been cut and a man was running away with her property. She made an outcry which brought many persons to the scene, and when they learned what had occurred they started in pursuit of the robber, but he soon distanced them. The handbag contained $29 and several pieces of valuable jewelry. The police are working on the case, but with little hope of recovering the property.

Mayor Franklin P. Stoy today wired to the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias, now in session at San Francisco, an invitation to hold the next convention of the order in Atlantic City. Reports from the convention say that there is a bright prospect that the invitation will be accepted.

The following persons have been selected by Mayor Stoy to act as judges of the floral parade on Friday afternoon: Miss Ella Moore, proprietress of the Pennhurst hotel; Miss Belle Scott, daughter of County Clerk Scott; Miss Hallie Erminie Rives, the southern authoress; Mrs. Senseman, wife of Dr. Theodore Senseman of Atlantic City; Fred Burk, a leather merchant of Philadelphia; Harry Bacharach, postmaster of Atlantic City, and William Abell, an Atlantic City merchant.

WORK STARTED ON THE BOOTHS FOR IRISH FAIR

Crowd of 50 Volunteers Making Preparations for the Great Event.

TIM HURST'S DESCRIPTION

Manager of Colosseum Tells of the Numerous Attractions in His Typical Manner—Everything Will Be Irish On the Grounds.

"Say, talk about your church workers, just take a squint at that bunch of gents over there," said Manager Tim Hurst of the Colosseum bicycle track in Allegheny, last night as he stood by and directed the work of almost 50 men who had volunteered to come and help erect the booths necessary for the church fair to be held by the Annunciation Roman Catholic church.

"They are the real thing," continued Tim. "For real, downright work they have a crowd of women skinned to death. There's no fussing about their work, and even if they all have hammers you can't call them knockers. Not a bit of it! Just turn your lamps on that aged patriarch!"

A glance in another direction brought to sight a man whose hair was gray. He had a long gray beard and was sawing a board and working as hard as if he were only 20 instead of 60.

The Rev. Father F. J. McCabe of the Annunciation church, Allegheny, called for volunteers from his pulpit last Sunday morning to appear at the Colosseum last night.

Hurst Explains.

"There's a typical Irish gathering," said Hurst, who had just finished some instructions to a laborer as to how he wanted a mound made. "You see, every fellow has a tool of some kind. It's either a shovel, a pick, an ax, a hammer, a saw, a wheelbarrow or a hatchet. Everything is here but the hod, and we may have to do a little plastering later on.

"Say, this is going to be the greatest ever. We are going to have every form of amusement under the sun and everything will be Irish. We will have Irish ping-pong, Irish races, Irish croquet, Irish lawn tennis, Irish billiards, and you may even have your fortune told in Irish when the big show is on.

"We're going to have Irish milk, too. Real goat's milk and mountain dew, but we'll keep within the limit of the Brooks law. And the grub! Oh, fine for the lilies. You can get a meal of the most delicious Irish stew here you ever struck."

Hurst wiped about four and a half drops of perspiration from his brow as he explained the details of his Irish country home which he is erecting near the entrance to the park. It will be a thatched-roof affair, 30 feet long and about 20 feet wide, with three rooms.

A Curio Hall.

Next to it will be a relic hall. Some of the articles will be for exhibition and some will be for sale. There will be all sorts of curios in this place, from a green flag which is said to have floated from Killarney's castle to a clay pipe which St. Patrick is said to have smoked in his day.

"Then you see that open space," said Tim. "Well, we'll have an Irish farm there. I have just ordered a supply of goats from the other side. We had the offer of a crop from Soho, but chose to get the real Irish goats. They are more highly perfumed. Then we'll have cows and sheep, and this farm will be stocked with everything but snakes."

Up the park half a square Manager Hurst pointed out a heap of dirt. A number of men were digging and others transferring it in their wheelbarrows to the mound. "This is to be the 'Water Fall of Tarc,'" explained Hurst.

"This mound will be 40 feet long by 15 feet high. At the bottom will be found the celebrated lake of Killarney and over there by the side will be erected the Blarney castle.

Map of Ireland.

"Here is a feature that will be worth the price of admission alone. I am going to have a large map of Ireland laid out. No, it won't be the representation of anyone's face, either. I am getting earth from every county in Ireland to fill in the enclosure."

When reminded that smoking was permitted only on the two rear seats, Hurst smiled and said: "That's no pipe. It's right. Ask the steamship agent if I haven't a big consignment of dirt coming from the Auld Sod by his next boat."

An Irish theater, located on the extreme eastern end of the grounds, will be a feature of the whole fair. A large piano has been secured and singing and dancing will form the principal part of the show.

Hurst's 40 Irish beauties will attempt a few stunts at vaudeville, and an effort will be made to illustrate the Irish songs as they are sung. A few bouts may be scheduled for the stage in the theater between local knights of the gloves, but they will all be friendly affairs, and will be classed under the head of an athletic entertainment.

Tammany Will Be There.

A large dancing platform will be erected at the entrance, where the light fantastic will be tripped to the heart's content of the lads and lassies who frequent the great fair. The music will be furnished by a corps of bagpipers led by the great bagpiper, Patrick Fitzpatrick.

The fair will open Monday night, August 25, with a blaze of splendor, and will last two weeks. Senator Thomas F. Grady of New York has promised to come to Pittsburgh for the opening. Timothy D. Sullivan, better known as "Dry Dollar" Sullivan, will also be here, and Mike A. Paden, another New York politician, has also promised to come.

The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to the erection of the proposed new Annunciation Roman Catholic church, to cost $40,000, to be erected in Norwood avenue, Allegheny.

BIG CHURCH PICNIC AT CONNEAUT LAKE

Fifteen Thousand United Presbyterians From Western Pennsylvania Go There Today.

Today at Conneaut Lake the United Presbyterians of Western Pennsylvania will hold their annual reunion. This is one of the greatest of the yearly church events in this section of the country, and it is believed that fully 15,000 persons will attend today's meeting. Special trains will be run from all points in this part of the state. No less than 21 specials will head this morning for Conneaut Lake.

The Pennsylvania lines will carry three specials, one from Wilkinsburg, leaving at 7 a. m.; one from Washington, Pa., at 5:30 a. m., and one from Rochester, at 6:55. The Pittsburgh & Western, or Baltimore & Ohio, will also have a special train of 10 coaches, leaving Allegheny at 7:15 a. m., to haul the people going that way. There will be large parties from outside points, and Pittsburgh will be well represented in the crowds. The Erie will have special trains from Youngstown and Oil City.

Idlewild has been the excursion point for these excursions in former years, and while Conneaut has had some of them, none has been on the scale of today's. Conneaut Lake is alone in the field this year. Last year upward of 12,000 attended the gathering, so that the estimate of 15,000 this year is not far from the correct number.

Outside of the features of Exposition park, where the gathering will be held, there is to be an adjourned meeting of the Lake presbytery and a religious program will be carried out on the exposition grounds, with the main address by the Rev. Dr. J. O. Campbell of Westminster college.

For general debility, want of appetite, sick headache and fever, little doses of Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge are usually very efficacious.

WHAT LESLIE HAS TO SAY

Director Does Not Wish Men Like Michael Welsh and James Connors on the Force—Connors Tried to Make Welsh Eat His Words.

When Patrolmen Michael Welsh and James Connors reported off duty at No. 6 police station in the East End yesterday they were handed slips of paper which informed them that they were no longer in the service of the bureau of police of Pittsburgh. They and their friends at once put in circulation a story that they had been deposed because of their refusal to sign the "Yellow Book," and their discharge was a complete surprise.

When Director Leslie was asked about the two discharges he said:

"Their dismissals should have been no surprise to either of them. Both of them had reason to expect walking papers. They had a rumpus at the station house a few days ago over a woman, and that lost them their places. We do not want such men on the force."

The two patrolmen sailed into each other one morning at the close of a police hearing, and when they got through it looked as if the traditional bull that entered the china shop had been operating in No. 6 station house. The desk sergeant gathered up what remained of the furniture and reported the matter at the Public Safety building.

As stated by Director Leslie, the difficulty between the two men came about through a woman. She was a friend of Connors, and he appears to have been jealous of her name and fame, for when Welsh addressed certain remarks to her, as he is alleged to have done, and Connors heard of it, he prepared to make Welsh feel sorry he had ever seen the woman. Connors' female friend wrote on a piece of paper what Welsh is alleged to have said to her and delivered the paper to Connors. "I'll make him eat it!" said Connors. And he bided his time.

Welsh Refused to Eat Words.

One morning just as Police Magistrate Armstrong had finished the hearings, Connors called Welsh to one side and interrogated him about the occurrence.

"It's none of your business," said Welsh, "what I said to her, and I want to say to you that I'll say anything I like, and you needn't give me any back talk about it."

Connors then drew the piece of paper from his pocket and proceeded to induce Welsh to eat it. Welsh demurred, and Connors proceeded to use force. The blood of both was aroused and the mix-up got so swift that eye-witnesses could no longer keep track of the rounds. Up to the third round Connors was winning, and when Welsh went out under the count of the referee Connors was still in the lead and appeared to have the best of the fight.

Welsh carried a black eye as the result of his trouble, while Connor was badly shaken up, although he had proved his right to the belt. The two officers were not in such bad shape that they were not able to do duty, but they were not of much use to the city for several days.

Result of Investigation.

After the news got to Central station formal charges were made before the police board. The board heard the testimony and ordered the discharge of both men.

"We do not want disputes settled in that way," said Director Leslie yesterday. "The proper thing for Connors to have done would have been to make charges against Welsh and have the woman here as a witness. If the men want to fight they will have to get off the police force to do so."

For six years Connors has been a member of the bicycle squad, and for two years before that he was a patrolman. He has been assigned to duty often as a plain clothes man, and about two years ago was instrumental in landing Christian, who killed a man named Hogan, at Murphy and Lawn streets. He discovered where Christian was hid in New York, and his information landed the murderer in the Allegheny county jail. He also arrested the notorious Harry Sailor in Duquesne at the risk of his life. Welsh has been a member of the force for four years.

Because they neglected their duty as officers, Policemen Moses Tyler and Wainwright Beckert of the First district were dismissed from service yesterday by the police board. It is alleged that they failed to ring up the desk sergeant at the required hours. The men had been in the service for many years and reported at No. 2 station house.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

In the Keener sand development, west of Bonds creek station, in Ritchie county, W. Va., Kennedy & Lawrence have shot their No. 1 on the Henshaw farm and increased its production to 15 barrels an hour. Before given a shot it was producing 100 barrels a day. In the same district the Associated Producers Company has completed its test on the Mason farm and has a duster. This is the first failure in this development. The test on the Smith farm is drilling in the lime above the top of the Keener and should get the sand tomorrow.

In the Big Knot Run district the Drillers Oil Company has shot its test on the George Ryan farm and the well responded by producing 200 barrels the first 12 hours. In the same district Mallory Bros. & Co.'s No. 1 on the Freeland farm is holding up at 300 barrels a day and the Three Joes Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 3 on the Elroy Wagner farm at 225 and 240 barrels a day respectively. The last-named company is down 900 feet with its No. 4, located 400 feet northeast of No. 1 on the same farm.

Mallory Bros. & Co. have started to spud at No. 3 Freeland, located 600 feet south of No. 1 on the same farm. No. 2 is drilling at 500 feet. The next well due is the South Penn Oil Company's test on the Morgan Hemsworth farm, located 1,000 feet northeast of No. 4 on the Elroy Wagner farm. It is drilling at 1,300 feet and should get the sand in a few days.

Stirring Up Some Excitement.

The United States Oil Company's producer on the Hallam farm, located on the South Fork of Hughes river, is stirring up some excitement. New work is starting in almost every direction from the salt sand producer on the Hallam farm. South 1,000 feet and across the river from the producer the Carter Oil Company is starting a well on the W. B. Holt farm. The United States Company is starting No. 2 Hallam. Jennings Bros. & Lockwood are starting a test on the Warner farm 500 feet west of No. 1 Hallam. Six hundred feet southeast of the Hallam No. 1 the Federal Oil Company is starting a test on the Kennedy heirs' farm. When completed these wells will make a very fair test of the territory in the vicinity of the present producing well.

On Goose creek, Clay district, M. Guffey & Co.'s No. 2 on the Burnham heirs' farm is holding up at 40 barrels a day and Eagan & Murphy's No. 3 on the Adams farm is the same kind of a producer. There is a good deal of work starting in this district.

In the Big Injun district, on McKim creek, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 23 on the J. L. Poe farm and has a duster.

In the Eureka district, Pleasants county, the Childers Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the S. A. Childers farm and has a light pumper in the sand.

On Elm river, Grant district, Ritchie county, the Associated Producers Company has drilled its test on the N. M. Morgan farm through the salt sand and has a duster. It will be drilled to the Big Injun.

North of Bealls Mills, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 1 on the John B. Amon farm through the Gordon and has a very strong gasser in that formation. It is now drilling to the fifth sand.

Small Gantz Sand Pumper.

Northeast of the Gantz sand pool in Fink creek, Lewis county, the South Penn has completed its No. 2 on the F. Joyce farm and has a small pumper in the Gantz sand.

Northeast of the Pine Grove development, in Wetzel county, E. H. Jennings & Bros. have shot their No. 1 on the Amos Sidel farm and increased its production to 375 barrels a day. This well is located two miles in advance of developments. L. S. Hoyt & Co.'s No. 59 on the L. S. Hoyt tract, is holding up at 125 barrels a day.

The Ohio Oil Company has completed its No. 28 on the W. S. Fisher farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer.

SECRETARY DOPP'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Had Backache and Sleeplessness Caused by Catarrh of Kidneys—Pe-ru-na Cured.

Many Persons Have Catarrh of the Kidneys and Don't Know It.

Raymond Dopp, Financial Secretary of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association No. 42, writes from 275 Antoine street, Detroit, Mich.:

"If you had seen me three years ago and then saw me today you would not wonder that I praise Peruna. At that time I was pale and emaciated from what the doctors called kidney and bladder trouble. My back ached, I could not properly digest my food, my nights were made hideous with bad dreams, but Peruna changed all this. Less than a dozen bottles made a new and well man of me, and a hundred times have I blessed you for having placed before humanity such a blessing to the sick as Peruna."—Raymond Dopp.

Mrs. Frances Matoon, Treasurer of the Minneapolis Independent Order of Good Templars, writes from 12 Sixth street, Minneapolis, Minn., as follows:

"Last winter I had considerable trouble with my kidneys brought on after a hard cold which I had neglected. One of my lodge friends who called when I was ill told me of a wonderful medicine called Peruna. I had no faith in it, but my husband purchased me a bottle, and asked me to try it. It brought me most satisfactory results. I used three bottles before I was completely cured, but I have had good cause to be grateful, for not only did my kidney trouble disappear, but my general health improved and I have been in good health ever since. I would not be without it for ten times its cost."—Frances Matoon.

This experience has been repeated many times. We hear of such cases nearly every day.

Mrs. Matoon had catarrh of the kidneys. As soon as she took the right remedy she made a quick recovery.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

Peruna is a specific for catarrhal derangements. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio, for free book on catarrh written by Dr. S. B. Hartman.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

TWELVE PAGES.

Abuse of a Great Power.

Late events have aroused much discussion of the police power to arrest on view. That is the broadest power conferred upon officialdom in the American system of government. It would never have been granted except in the belief that it would always be wisely used for the protection of honest people. Nor will it be long tolerated if used for other purposes, as it appears lately to have been used in Pittsburgh.

There are now three cases occupying public attention in which the arrests are alleged to have been negligently made. First, that of Feighley, who was locked up and "sweated" in connection with the King murder; second, that of George B. Armstrong, Jr., who was put under arrest for standing upon his father's premises; and third, that of Eva May Brown, who tells a story of extraordinary usage at the hands of the police and alleges inexcusable stupidity.

In the first case the court has expressed an opinion wholly uncomplimentary to police methods. The second and third are the subjects of investigation by the department. It is not improbable these cases may tend to temporarily demoralize the machinery of justice, or even lead to the escape of offenders against the law. Policemen may be perplexed as to what their duty really is. If so, the fault will not lie with the earnest protest against false arrests, but with the maladministration of justice. Policemen have difficult duties and an occasional error of judgment can be excused. But it is an entirely different matter when they are confused by improper orders, take innocent persons into custody and refuse to liberate them upon reasonable evidence that the arrest has been wrongfully made. In other words, good common sense is expected of the police department.

Pittsburgh in Control.

There is no longer any doubt that Pittsburghers are in control of New York Airbrake, the only considerable competitor of the Westinghouse interest. The result may be an actual merger and consolidation of the two companies, or it may be merely an understanding for mutual benefit. In any event it is likely to advance Pittsburgh interests and increase the employment of labor in this field. This city has so long been in control of the airbrake industry that acquisition of the New York company will only restore the natural feeling that the business is centered where it belongs.

Technicalities in the Way.

Gaynor and Greene, fugitives from the United States who fled to Canada to escape trial for complicity with Capt. Carter's frauds upon the government, have been released from custody by Judge Caron. The court filed a long opinion, which did not pretend to go into the merits of the case, but which found fault with the form of the charges preferred by the American government.

Doubtless the learned judge was satisfied in his own mind that he was strictly within the law in liberating the two men, but it is difficult to see how the cause of justice can be the gainer by shielding the fugitives. Their extradition to the United States has been prevented by technicalities of the law. It was not contended that the alleged defrauders would not have a fair trial in the United States. They fought against being brought to trial at all. The judge did not take the ground that the offenses with which they are charged are not extraditable. He based his action on discrepancies between the charges on which bills of indictment were found against the men in the United States and the charges made in the application for extradition.

Gaynor and Greene have contested most stubbornly the extradition proceedings. They evidently have money enough to engage astute legal talent and to use to the full all legal obstacles. Such actions are not likely to convince Americans of their innocence, nor can Americans regard with equanimity the apparent determination of Canadian authorities to take advantage of technicalities in order to shield the accused men and prevent their return to the United States.

Just One Problem.

Denial has been entered on behalf of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad that it is opposing the entrance of the Gould roads into the Pittsburgh field. The denial may be accepted fully. The Lake Erie understands well enough that Pittsburgh tonnage taxes all carriers to their fullest capacity. For more than a year it has been far beyond the ability of the railroads centering here to handle it, and conditions at this moment are very unsatisfactory.

The plans of the Wabash are ambitious, and the more comprehensively they develop the more heartily are they welcomed by the business people of this district. Opposition on the part of councilmanic combinations, or of other railroads, only strengthens the public faith in the Gould system as the relief that has been so long looked for. For while it is conceded on every hand that Pittsburgh tonnage, at any time, will only be limited by the abilities of all roads to move it, opposition arouses the hope that the newcomer may be a potent factor in fixing the rates at which it will be moved.

Pittsburgh's expansion in the manufacturing field long ago demonstrated the natural advantages of the location. During the past decade there has been but one problem in the outlook for the future. That question has been transportation. Topographically this is a difficult region. The Wabash is trying to prove it is not yet an impossible one. For the remainder Pittsburgh needs nothing but ample facilities and fair, open rates for all, to surpass all previous records in the growth of the years to come.

The People and the Issues.

The attempt of the Democratic leaders at the Erie convention to bury and conceal national issues under a platform devoted to state issues alone, has the effect of driving some Democrats out of the Democratic party. The nomination of Pennypacker by the Republican convention has satisfied them that the affairs of the state will be placed in good hands on his election, and in the failure of the Democratic convention to deal with national issues, coupled with a revival of Bryanism, caused by Bryan's recent eastern tour, they see a continuance of menace to national interests.

One such Democrat is Charles Henry Jones of Philadelphia, who was special deputy collector under Collector of the Port John Cadwalader during the first Cleveland administration. He has written a letter to Chairman Donnelly of the Democratic city executive committee of Philadelphia declining to serve as a member of the committee to aid in the election of Robert E. Pattison as governor, for the reason that, as he is "not in accord with the present policy of the Democratic party upon the important questions of money and expansion" he "cannot advocate the election of its candidates for office." As to state issues, he regards the character and ability of Judge Pennypacker as abundant guarantees that the duties of governor will be wisely and safely performed. National issues, he believes, will be paramount in this campaign, and state issues subordinated, and the selection of a senator and members of congress will be largely influenced by the attitude of voters toward the head of the ticket. "Sound money and expansion," Mr. Jones says, "have always been, until the present time, fundamental doctrines of the Democratic party." He refers at some length to the effect these doctrines have had on the welfare and growth of the country and continues:

> I have followed the course of the Democratic party in congress with much interest, and am constrained to say that, in my judgment, it would not be for the best interests of the country to put it in control of that body at the present time, and, so believing, I find myself unable to support its candidates.

In an interview that appears in the Ledger in connection with his letter of repudiation, Mr. Jones said further that the recent receptions to Mr. Bryan show the Nebraskan to still have a larger hold upon the masses of the Democratic party than any of its other leaders and he sees "little hope of the party becoming united once more upon sound principles. I regret to say that I find more sound Democratic doctrine today in the Republican party than I do in the Democratic party," he said in conclusion.

There is a large amount of good sense in what Mr. Jones tells the Democratic city chairman and the public. As has been pointed out in The Gazette the people make the issues of a campaign and campaign issues cannot be kept out of sight by omission from a party platform. Omission, in fact, only serves to make them the more conspicuous. If the Democratic leaders had not felt their party's record to be a handicap they would not have kept all reference to it out of their convention resolutions. It was no patriotic desire to benefit the state that confined the platform to state issues, and the platform of state issues cannot divert the attention of the people from large questions of national concern. When Democrats like Mr. Jones refuse to have their attention diverted and see in the Republican nominee for governor a sufficient guarantee for the state, Republicans are not likely to permit themselves to be deceived.

Campaign issues being what the people will have them, the platform of the Pennsylvania Democracy is mere waste paper. This might not be true with some other Republican candidate than Pennypacker, but with Pennypacker as the complete refutation of the Democratic attitude on state affairs and with congressmen and a United States senator to elect, national issues will have a much more important place in campaign discussions than the Democratic leaders will relish.

A Session for Cuba.

Reports from Sagamore Hill point to an extra session of the United States senate immediately after the November elections to act on a Cuban reciprocity treaty. The president's statement that there is no authority for saying an extra session will be called earlier than November is almost equivalent to a declaration that one will be held in that month. Many things may be urged in favor of it. There are large matters to be disposed of at the short session of congress and if one of them can be eliminated by calling an extra session of the senate there will be more time left for other important business. At the regular session it might be possible for hostile influences to sidetrack the reciprocity measure by urging prior claims of questions of purely domestic concern. At an extra session, held for the one purpose, the item to which national honor is pledged ought to be disposed of to the satisfaction of the country. The senators who opposed reciprocity have heard the voice of the people expressed in party platforms and if not entirely compliant will doubtless be less strenuous against the matter that will be laid before them.

Work for American Cruisers.

It is a great pity that there was no American peacemaker at Barcelona to prevent the pillage of that town by the Venezuelan revolutionists. Those interesting characters looted the property of natives and foreigners with strict impartiality, not even the consulates of the United States, Italy and Holland being sacred in their eyes. Minister Bowen, at the Venezuelan capital, cabled the state department that a warship is needed at Barcelona to protect the interests of foreigners, and the Cincinnati was ordered to proceed thither from Porto Cabello. The excitement will calm down when Commander McLean's good ship appears in the harbor. In all probability the Cincinnati has already arrived, although official information of her arrival may not reach Washington for several days, because the cable has been cut, making it necessary to carry dispatches by boat to the nearest port with which telegraphic communication is uninterrupted.

While three warships are looking after American interests in Venezuela ports, Commander McCrea, with the gunboat Machias, is keeping a fatherly eye on Cape Haitien, and by the moral effect of the presence of this representative of United States authority trying to restore the Haitiens to a tranquil frame of mind. It is an unusually busy summer with these turbulent little republics in Central America. Their people are too excitable to manage national affairs with the serenity that should mark self-governing countries, and they do not appear to be improving in their conduct. The worst of it is, there does not seem to be anything that this country can do to bring about a more satisfactory condition of things, except to recommend moderation and to warn the combatants that they must respect the rights of foreigners.

Those Chicago professors leave no subject undecided. One of them has declared that spanking is the proper treatment for wicked persons under 10 years of age.

The last inch of rain that fell in Kansas was worth millions to the corn crop. It's a pity that districts with superfluous rain can't realize the market value for their overplus.

After seeing the Republican campaign textbook, the Democrats, who had theirs ready, called it back to make a few repairs.

Foiled Again.

From the Baltimore American.

Hunted and harried to his last stand, the desperate bandit pours shot after shot into the intrepid posse that has surrounded him.

Seeing that escape is out of the question, he mutters:

"At least, the historical novelist of the future shall have no opportunity to marry me off in the last chapter to one of those impossible heroines."

So saying, with a last yell of defiance, he places the pistol to his head and pulls the trigger.

GOTHAM TIRES OF LONG DELAY

Man in Street Wants Pennsylvania to Be Given Tunnel Franchise Quick.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.

New York aldermen are at loggerheads over the proposed tunnel across Manhattan to be built by the Pennsylvania Railway Company. John J. McCall, Tammany leader of the board of aldermen, declares that two-thirds of the board are opposed to granting the franchise to the company, and that he knows this because he has canvassed his fellow-members. The chief objection to giving the franchise, according to Mr. McCall and his friends, is that there is no clause in the contract binding the company to pay union wages forever. Other members pass this over, saying that there is a strong sentiment in this city in favor of the tunnel, and it will be built beyond all question, and by the Pennsylvania railroad. As for the union wage matter, that is a detail to be settled apart from the contract between the city and the railroad. The latter opinion seems likely to prevail. The city wants the tunnel so badly that it is not disposed to have a public project of this magnitude held up on account of a question that, after all, belongs to the executive department of the work, when it shall begin. The upshot of it all is that Mr. McCall is evidently mistaken in his canvass, and that when the franchise comes before the board again it will go through, in spite of the Tammany leader's "two-thirds opposition." There has been so much talk about tunnels in New York in the last two or three years that people are tired of the discussion, demanding something tangible. It was supposed when the proposition of the Pennsylvania railroad to build a great tunnel, with the terminus of the railroad in the heart of Manhattan, was first made that much of the difficulty was over. Here was a great corporation ready to undertake the work, as soon as there should be permission from the city, and "the man in the street" is inclined to take sides with the company, simply because he wants the tunnel, and has no patience with legislative hair-splitting that may interfere with the carrying out of the enterprise.

Wakes Up Ancient Mariners.

Every now and then a collision or an explosion in New York harbor wakes up the ancient mariners, and sets them to talking seriously about the perils of their profession. The blowing up of the tugboat off Staten Island this morning was more serious than many of the accidents in the bay. Four men killed and half a dozen injured is a tale of horror calculated to make even the most hardened New Yorker, used to reading accounts of violent deaths by the score in his paper every day, shake his head in dismay. In such a large population as that of Greater New York there must be necessarily a number of casualties, and the report of them is part of the daily routine. But this disaster in the harbor was a little worse than usual, and is attracting corresponding attention.

One of Harry Davis' Stars.

Among the members of the Pittsburgh Grand Opera House Stock Company engaged within the last few days is Miss Mina Phillips. She is an Australian, and this will be her second season in this country. Last year she was in the support of Rose Coghlan. Miss Phillips is a talented young woman and has made so good an impression wherever she has appeared in the United States that no doubt she will become popular in Pittsburgh.

Gotham Worries About Winter.

With coal at $10 a ton, and still going up, the question of heating and cooking in the coming winter is disturbing a great many housekeepers. Some persons say it will be $15 a ton when the cold weather reaches us, with no prospect of its becoming any cheaper. That the city will be using soft coal generally before very long is conceded by all who have given the matter attention. The "L" roads will begin to use soft coal on Monday next, despite whatever the health department may have to say. Factories, steamboats and other large users of fuel are burning bituminous coal, and the black smoke belches out gaily all over the city. That the poorer classes will suffer greatly this winter is beyond question, and the worst of it is that there is no relief in sight.

Story and Trunk Both False.

A smuggler got himself into Ludlow street jail today. He was not the traditional bold smuggler of the boys' story books, with a knife in his teeth, a horse pistol in his belt, and a cutlass hung to his side. He was a small, rather mild-looking Italian, who was sneaking in some $800 worth of jewelry in the false bottom of a trunk. He had cheerfully sworn that he had no dutiable goods in his possession, and was about to depart from the Italian line pier, when a customs official broke through the false bottom of his trunk and revealed the smuggled jewelry. Commissioner Shields looked the man over and said he would be held in $2,500 bail. The offender could not get bail, and he went to jail. While, of course, there are no smugglers in Pittsburgh, it may be worth while to emphasize the fact that smugglers in New York are sometimes put in a dungeon cell—when they are caught.

More Jealousy on Rialto.

There is excitement on the Rialto tonight over the report that Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt has bought up the performance of "The Wild Rose" for one night, and that on that night the Knickerbocker theater will be dark. What is troubling all the other managers is that Mrs. Vanderbilt should have hit on "The Wild Rose" to amuse her guests at Beaulieu on the evening of August 25. There is nothing against "The Wild Rose," of course, but why did not Mrs. Vanderbilt choose something else, so as to give some other manager the benefit of the $5,000 she is expected to pay for the services of the company? The difficulty is that each of the 200 managers thinks he and his "attraction" should have been favored. And yet it is said—by the press agent—that the managers of "The Wild Rose" at first declined Mrs. Vanderbilt's proposition.

Towser's Tongue Still Hangs Out.

Drinking fountains for dogs will be soon established in different parts of this city. Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske has sent to the borough president, Mr. Cantor, $500 to be expended on these fountains, and he has been trying to obtain a handsome and useful design for the articles. The S. P. C. A. has submitted a design for the fountains, which President Cantor declares is so hideous that no self-respecting dog would drink from it. He says the design looks like a cuspidor of an old type. Meanwhile the dogs are panting for water and wish the question of design had never come up to keep them away from drink.

Boston Ideals May Call on Us.

Joseph C. Brell, the Pittsburgh musician who is managing the Boston Ideal Opera Company, dropped into town today to say that his organization is playing a three weeks' engagement at Brunswick, N. J., with great success. He says the company was engaged to play at Old Point Comfort, Va., for two weeks, but stayed six. Mr. Brell talks of taking the company to Pittsburgh.

Gives Sweetheart Time to Think.

Judge Foster, in special sessions today, put a damper on a sentimental motion with promptitude and severity. A young man accused of stealing $33 from a friend, pleaded for mercy, through his lawyer, on the ground that he was about to be married. This touched the court, but not in the way the prisoner expected. After hearing from the lawyer that the girl the young man intended to marry was good and respectable the judge said: "If that is the case, I consider it my duty toward the young lady to sentence this young man to six months in prison. I have investigated his record, and it is a very bad one. I trust that during his imprisonment the young lady will look up his record also and retract her promise to marry him. This was common sense on the part of the court, but, of course, the girl will marry her sweetheart when he gets out: they always do.

Fate Written in Blood-Red Letters.

The Mafia is said to be active in New York, in spite of the vigilance of the police in stamping out all murderous organizations whenever possible. An Italian merchant in Harlem says he is pursued by the Mafia, and, to prove it, shows this letter, which came to him anonymously today: "Ajello, your time has come. You have only a few more days to live. You know who is after you, and we never fail when we start on our mission." This sounds bloodthirsty enough, and Ajello has asked the police to protect him. There is said to be a woman at the bottom of the mischief. The missive Ajello received is written in red ink.

Makes a Good Guess.

"I guess I will be the next one to go," said George A. Miller of Jersey City, today, talking to his wife about the death of a friend who was buried yesterday. Miller left his house for his office in New York, walked two blocks, and dropped dead in the street from heart disease.

Uncle Russell Takes Credit.

Russell Sage modestly asserted today that the engineers and firemen on the "L" who have been granted their request for a nine-hour day owe it to him. He said he had obtained the co-operation of Geo. J. Gould, president, and other influential persons who had at first expressed themselves in favor of fighting a strike to the end. It was a good thing for New York that Uncle Russell prevailed, for a tie-up on the elevated railroads would have been a mighty disagreeable thing, and would have affected pretty nearly everyone in the city.

Counting Storm Before It Hatches.

There is a storm of large proportions gathering over New York this evening, and it is expected to break before daylight. The day has been beautiful—somewhat warmer than yesterday—and perfectly clear. With a cold wave in New England, so that there was ice on the sidewalk at Mount Washington, and so cold in New York early this morning that an overcoat was comfortable, the people of this city are prepared for anything in the way of weather. The theatrical men lugubriously predict a boiling hot September, about the time that many of the theaters open for the season, but that prediction is based only on the law of averages, which, they believe, will give them warm weather late in the season, to compensate for the coolness throughout July and August.

King Edward Is to Blame.

King Edward VII. is responsible for an Irishman named Sloane lying in a Brooklyn hospital suffering from several knife wounds. Sloane and an Englishman named Gibbetts used to be friends until Sloane ridiculed the coronation of the king, and said a few more things about his majesty that riled the loyal Gibbetts. There was a fight and now Gibbetts is in prison, while Cloane may possibly be on his deathbed.

Port Is Losing Business.

It is declared by the tugboat men that the towing business in New York harbor is in poorer condition than it has been in the last 20 years. The reasons assigned by some of the leading tugboat owners are the pending coal strike, the decrease in the number of sailing vessels coming to New York and the decline of the grain business. Other causes mentioned are the fact that the railroads now do their own lightering and towing, and also that the excessive port charge and poor transportation accommodations between the great lakes and the Atlantic seaboard have caused trade to be diverted from New York to other seaports.

To Be Gala Pittsburgh Night.

John S. Duss is preparing to give the teachers who went to Europe as the guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph a fine entertainment on the night that they will visit St. Nicholas garden to hear his band. He will select the numbers with special reference to the pleasure all Pittsburghers feel in listening to music by composers from their own city. Melodies by Stephen C. Foster, Ethelbert Nevin and other musicians whose names are household words everywhere will be included in the program, together with selections by Duss himself, and the master works of the dead-and-gone giants of Harmony. The garden will be decorated specially in honor of the teachers, and it will be a gala night in general. It is expected that the steamship Columbia, with the party on board, will reach New York next Sunday. If the vessel arrives on schedule time the concert for the teachers will be given on the following evening, which will be known as the "Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph Teachers' European Excursion Night." Saturday evening, September 28, is the date set for the musical jubilee with which Duss will conclude his all-summer season at the St. Nicholas. A mixed chorus of 500 voices will be a feature of the program.

LATEST TURKISH ROYAL SCANDAL

Prince in Prison Described by Intimates as Decent Fellow.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Prince Reshad, younger brother of the Turkish sultan, and his heir apparent, who has, according to the cable dispatches from Constantinople, been arrested in the Teheregan palace, charged with complicity in the Young Turks conspiracy, is a man of 56 years of age, about whom very little is known by the world at large, owing to the extreme care which he has been obliged to exercise, both with regard to his utterances and associations, for fear of incurring the suspicion of his older brother, the sultan.

For the last 26 years, in fact, ever since Abdul Hamid succeeded to the throne, Reshad Effendi, as he is called at Stamboul, has lived an existence of complete isolation in the palace of Dolma Bagtche, surrounded by spies and people in pay of his brother, who have been commissioned to keep a constant watch on him and to post the sultan as to everything he either did or said. The few people who knew him declare he is singularly upright and possessed of sound judgment. He is imbued with the best intentions and is reported to have expressed on more than one occasion his sorrow at the condition of affairs at the Yildiz kiosque. Whatever good is said of him is confirmed by the choice of his very few friends and sympathizers, who are all men of position, honor and dignity of character, who hold aloof from public life, patiently awaiting the day when their prince shall succeed to the throne.

The sultan insists that his brother is possessed of the evil eye and declares that on each occasion they have met some mishap has overtaken him. And it is owing to this that the prince and monarch have not seen one another for several years.

Accused of Drunkenness.

The sultan accuses his brother of an undue liking for strong drink and for women. But these charges may be considered to mean the prince is imbued with liberal ideas of government. For it may be remembered the late sultan was removed from the throne on the pretext that he had wrecked his mind by means of strong drink, whereas the real reason was that he had incurred the wrath of the more fantastic element of the Mohammedan clergy by endeavoring to introduce all sorts of western reforms, which would have had the effect of injuring the power and prestige of the church.

It is well known the sultan resents the idea of being succeeded by his brother Reshad, and would infinitely prefer to nominate as his heir his favorite son Burhaneddin, a very bright boy, of whom the kaiser became very fond during his stay at Constantinople. But this is out of the question. For dynastic tradition and Koranic law provide that the throne at the death of a sultan shall pass to the eldest of the princes of the blood, irrespective of the fact of there being sons, brothers, nephews or even cousins.

The present sultan was preceded by his elder brother Murad, while the latter followed his uncle, the ill-fated sultan Abdul Asaliz. Reshad is the next brother of the reigning sultan, and should he die there are still three other brothers of the sultan as well as several of the latter's elder sons, whose rights to the throne all precede those of young Burhaneddin. Had it not been for this Rechad would long ago have been put out of the way, so intensely is he hated and feared by the sultan.

Lord and Lady Barrymore.

As I predicted in these letters, Mr. and Mrs. Smith-Barry have on their elevation to the peerage taken the title of Lord and Lady Barrymore, the objections which were raised by claimants to the minor honors of the now extinct earldom of Barrymore having been removed. Mr. and Mrs. Smith-Barry have not, however, revived the earldom of Barrymore, but merely the barony of that name, and are coming very shortly to this country for the purpose of paying a visit to the relatives of the new Lady Barrymore, who attended the coronation on Saturday last as a peeress of the realm.

Lady Barrymore is a daughter of Gen. Wadsworth of Genesee, N. Y., and the widow of the late Arthur Post of New York.

Fortunately the newly-created Lord Barrymore is exceedingly respectable and as such may be relied upon to redeem the name and the title from the bad odor which it formerly enjoyed, owing to the roystering conduct of the last two earls of Barrymore. The eighth Lord Barrymore was so enthusiastic a patron of the prize ring that he took Hooper, the "tin man," a celebrated pugilist of those days, into his employ. On one occasion he introduced the "tin man" to the then fashionable vauxhall in the garb of an ecclesiastical dignitary, and great was the scandal when the pugilist was found to be drunk and disorderly.

The last earl of Barrymore, who died at Paris shortly before Queen Victoria succeeded to the throne, remains on record as the inventor of the "tiger," that is, the diminutive footman, who clings to the back of the equipages known as cabriolets, and who occasionally occupies the rear seat of the more modern dog cart.

Emmanuel Hard Working King.

Just two years have elapsed since the assassination of King Humbert, and although his son, Victor Emmanuel, has shown himself to be a far more capable sovereign that his ill-fated father, yet it is doubtful whether he is as popular, or whether he has managed to get into such close touch with his subjects. Humbert's accession to the throne was followed by several great disasters which brought him very near to his people, and which placed him before them in an almost heroic light. Nothing of the kind has yet occurred to bring Victor Emmanuel in such a sympathetic light before the public, although those who know him well declare that his personality will by degrees reveal itself distinctly enough without adventitious circumstances.

The greatest obstacle in the way of the present king's popularity in his distaste for the pomp and show which appeal to the imagination of his subjects. The rooms occupied by the king and queen in the palazzina or annex of the quirinal are modest to the verge of austerity, and they leave on visitors the impression that their royal occupants care little for the glittering and gaudy surroundings of the apartments in the main buildings. The family life of the royal couple might serve as a model to every peasant in the country in its simplicity and thrift.

Virtues such as those do not immediately appeal to the imagination of the people. They feel that their king is a hard-working, virtuous, sober man, sparing no pains in the fulfillment of his responsibilities. But they miss the flash and the glitter of royalty. To some extent the belief that the king is democratic and almost socialist at heart has given him a certain amount of popularity among the working classes.

Galliffet Touches Bazaine Lightly.

A striking thing in the memoirs of Gen. the Marquis Galliffet now being published in certain of the Paris papers, is the forbearance he displays with regard to ex-Marshall Bazaine. He admits having urged Napoleon III. to turn a deaf ear to those military men who were demanding Bazaine's removal from command of the French army in Mexico, and his being placed on the retired list, which has led the enemies of the marquis to declare that if he had not prevented Bazaine's dismissal Metz would never have been betrayed, nor Alsace and Loraine lost to Germany in the war of 1870. Galliffet likewise contents himself with saying that Madame Bazaine, "having been urged to join her husband in Mexico, died before she could leave Paris." The fact of the matter was that Madame Bazaine was urged to join her husband on account of the scandal to which her indiscretions gave rise at Paris, and she was murdered in one of the suburbs of Paris under circumstances so shocking that the authorities, out of respect for her husband, made no attempt to lift the veil of mystery by which the crime was shrouded, or to punish the murderers. Nevertheless the newspapers obtained an inkling of the manner of her death and so alarmed was Napoleon as to the effect which the descriptions which they contained might have on the marshal who was devoted to his wife, that he resorted to the extraordinary measure of holding back all the mails on the next steamer bound for Mexico which carried the officer charged with the duty of gently breaking the news of Madame Bazaine's death to the marshal. The officer fulfilled his mission, but, a few hours later the papers arrived via the United States. The blow almost killed Bazaine, and he was never the same man afterward.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Alice A. Morrison.

Mrs. Alice Ann Morrison, an aged and well-known resident of Pittsburgh, died yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 317 Orchard place, Knoxville. She was the only child of Michael and Sarah O'Neille and was born at Donyboy, County Tyrone, Ireland, on March 5, 1836. After the death of her father, she came with her mother to his country and reached Pittsburgh in 1841. They moved to Washington county, O., two years later. She was married to Domenick Morrison in 1860, and the family moved from Ohio to Pittsburgh in 1870, and still reside here. Mrs. Morrison took a deep interest in matters pertaining to charity and was a most earnest and active church worker, being always of a cheerful and amiable disposition. She is survived by her husband, Domenick Morrison, and four sons, B. J., M. D., W. C. and O. A. The funeral will take place from St. Canice Roman Catholic church, Knoxville, on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment at Calvary cemetery.

P. C. Byrne.

P. C. Byrne, one of the best-known undertakers in Lawrenceville, died yesterday evening at 5:30 o'clock, at his home, Fifty-second street and Natrona alley. Mr. Byrne had been in failing health since last September, and during the holiday season had an operation performed, in the hope of improving his health. He was engaged in business in Lawrenceville for 25 years, and was active in the politics of his ward. He was a member of the St. Kieran's Roman Catholic church, and is survived by his wife, four sons and one daughter, Clement Byrne, bookkeeper in the Allegheny Valley bank, and Raymond Byrne, assistant bookkeeper in the Metropolitan bank, are sons.

Alexander Hurford.

CANTON, O., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Alexander Hurford, the oldest native Cantonian, died today at the age of 85. Obituary Notes.

Word has been received in Pittsburgh of the death of Miss Annie M. Bissell of No. 4913 Ellsworth avenue, East End, at Greenwich, Conn., at noon yesterday.

PERSONALS.

"We will have our pipe line connected with the seaboard within a few weeks," remarked D. J. Rowan, general foreman of the Southern Pipe Line, last night. "We are now running the line across the Monongahela river near Port Perry, and expect to complete the work by September 1. The line is being laid according to the United States laws, and for our own protection we are ditching it below the requirements of the law. I think we will have to put in about 1,000 feet of 5-inch pipe to cross the stream."

John McKay of Titusville stated last night that the large tank being erected by his firm on Neville island will be completed within a few weeks. He has erected oil tanks in all parts of the world, but the Neville Island tank will be the largest he has ever superintended. "I have 20 men employed on this tank," he said, "and when completed it will be one of the largest storage tanks in this section of the state. The oil situation is looking better for us. I have traveled all over the Indian territory prospecting, and if they ever get a flowing well there I will be greatly surprised. I have seen the rock and sand in the territory and it bears no resemblance to the oil sands of Ohio, Indiana or Pennsylvania."

WABASH STRIKES SNAG IN LAND CONDEMNATION

Jos. S. Finch & Co. Object to Bond Filed as $195,000 Too Low.

TROUBLE ON RIVER ROUTE

Extension of Tracks Along the South Side Meets With Resistance from Property Owners, Who Allege Their Plants Will Be Ruined.

The Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, or the Wabash, as it is generally known, encountered the first obstacle yesterday in court to its plan to extend its tracks along the river front on the South Side, above the Smithfield street bridge.

Joseph S. Finch & Co. filed exceptions in common pleas court No. 3 to the bond given by the railroad company in the action to appropriate the Finch property. The bond is for $30,000 and the firm declares it should be for at least $225,000. The property has a frontage of 280 feet along the Monongahela river.

The exceptant company alleges that upon the property are located its pumps for supplying its distillery with water. It is claimed that without this pumping plant it will be impossible to obtain a sufficient supply of water. It is also set forth that other lines of pipes pass across the property from the distillery, and that without these it will be necessary to close down the plant.

In conclusion it is claimed that the firm cannot secure other land to take the place of that which the railroad company seeks to secure.

SAYS IT'S A SCHEME.

W. H. Jacobs Alleges That a Bank and a Plaintiff to a Suit Are Conspiring Against Him.

W. H. Jacobs filed an answer to the equity suit of Mary A. Byles against the Diamond National bank and Jacobs, an action to secure partition of property on Union street belonging to the heirs of Thomas Conway, who died intestate. Jacobs avers that the plaintiff and the bank are conspiring to force him to give up possession of the property, which he alleges he has leased until May 1, 1903.

Jacobs avers that he has paid a portion of the rent to James McGuire, husband of Abigail McGuire, deceased, who with five children are entitled to one-sixteenth of the property. He says they were satisfied with the arrangement but would not sign the lease because other heirs had signed it with whom their family were not friendly. Jacobs claims he has spent $9,000 in repairing the property since he has had the lease. The McGuires sold their share in the property to the bank, which leased it to Jacobs. He says it is a scheme to cause him to give up possession before the lease expires, as the bank wishes to use the property.

DENY BAD FAITH.

Defendants Allege They Told Mrs. Graham Contents of a Lease.

An answer was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 by W. H. Frazier and M. J. Shuey to the bill in equity of Jane M. Graham, in which the defendants deny having made any misrepresentation about a lease. The plaintiff alleged that the defendants leased some property from her for the purpose of building a carpenter shop upon it, but instead they erected a stable, and she asks the court to declare the lease void.

The defendants state that they told the plaintiff they would likely build a stable and that it is not true they hindered her from reading the lease, but on the contrary they requested her to do so, which she did, afterward saying it was all right. The defendants also deny they deceived or misled the plaintiff or that the erection of the building has damaged her property.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

William Robinson sued the United Real Estate and Construction Company for $3,100 on notes.

The will of Agnes G. Kelly, wife of George A. Kelly, the Pittsburgh wholesale druggist, was filed yesterday. It was written 42 years ago and her entire estate is left to her husband.

Letters on the estate of Harry Kepling, worth $280, were granted to the American Trust Company; on the estate of John L. Rhodes, valued at $7,000, to the Safe Deposit and Trust Company, and on the estate of William Kline, worth $1,200, to Herman Janssen.

D. S. Taylor took out letters of administration on the estates of his father and mother, David and Sophia Taylor. Mrs. Taylor died June 18, leaving her estate to her husband. The latter took out letters, but died on August 8. The mother's estate is valued at $20,000 and the father's at $5,000. Attorneys Rimmer & Beatty represent the executor.

Executions were issued as follows: D. R. McNaught vs. Bertha Meehl et al., $140; Alexander O'Laughlin vs. Lawrence O'Laughlin, $509; John B. Walton vs. James Mills et al., $115; G. W. DON'T WANT PESTHOUSE.

Thirteenth Ward Citizens Will Ask for Injunction Against New Municipal Hospital.

Citizens of the Thirteenth ward do not propose to have the new municipal hospital erected there, though they have to go into the courts to keep it away. Attorneys Scott Ferguson and S. A. Will, as their representatives, will today serve formal notice upon Recorder Brown, Director Leslie of the department of public safety and Controller Larkin, that recourse will be had to legal proceedings if the work is carried on. This notice will be served on the basis of the official advertisement for bids for the erection of the building. The bids are to be opened August 25.

An injunction is to be asked for if the contract is let and the work started. The suit will be under the act of 1889, by which it was provided that no hospital or pesthouse should be erected in cities. It is not believed by the citizens of the ward that Controller Larkin will approve the contract when he sees that litigation threatens it.

Society

THOUSANDS of people leave Pittsburgh during the summer and go to seek breathing spots, leaving behind them acres of the most beautiful breathing spots — pleasure grounds—to be found anywhere. It is the charm of novelty and change that impels citizens to seek recreation in other places when Pittsburgh has hundreds of acres of park land which the thousands who must stay at home avail themselves of. Nearly half of this wide area of public pleasure ground was the gift of one generous woman. Schenley park is the most extensive of Pittsburgh parks. In October, 1889, Mrs. Mary E. Schenley deeded to the city 300 acres of land lying between Forbes street and Second avenue. In March and June, 1891, the city purchased 110 acres so as to straighten out the boundary lines, the greater part of the purchase extending along Forbes street, for the Forbes street entrance to the park. Schenley park now embraces 439 acres.

Highland park is more compact than Schenley and its several points of interest are more accessible. At different times since 1872 small purchases have been made by the city of property, and Highland park now embraces 290 acres, with an approximate valuation of more than $700,000. The imposing entrance leads directly to the reservoir, whose terraced sides are covered with scrolls formed of richly colored foliage plants. The zoological garden is a very popular attraction at Highland park.

Herron Hill park consists of about 13 acres which were purchased by the city in 1871 from William A. Herron for the purpose of building a reservoir. The reservoir is surrounded by attractive walks and shrubbery. Herron Hill park affords one of the finest views of Pittsburgh and the rivers that is to be found. The original plot of ground was purchased for about $35,000, but with the improvements which have been made has greatly increased in value during the 30 years and is probably valued now at more than $50,000. The people of Herron Hill frequent the reservoir park during warm summer evenings. There is always a breeze sweeping across it, for it is, with a possible exception, the highest point in Allegheny county.

The old Bedford "basin," as it is called, was purchased by the city for a reservoir many years ago. Located near Bedford avenue and Fulton street, it is easily reached by the people of the crowded Wylie avenue district and the project to have a recreation park there for the men and boys of the district has met with much approval, though lack of money has delayed the scheme for two seasons. The Bedford basin or park is but five acres in extent.

Down in the heart of the city, on Second avenue, near Ross street, is a tiny green spot belonging to the city which showed a valuation recently of $230,600. It is the only park in the business portion of the city and was given to Pittsburgh in 1820 by James O'Hara, when Pittsburgh extended but little beyond Grant street or Grant hill as it was called then. For many years it was the site of the Scotch Hill market. This little patch of green is surrounded by an iron fence, its grass is kept trimmed and its flower beds cared for, though the streets on every side are dusty, and the smoke and soot from mills hover over it.

In Lawrenceville there is a plot of ground, 100 feet by 480, called Snyder's square, which was given to the city many years ago by the Dennys, in return for exempting the estate from certain taxations. The land was given for a park, but the city has never improved it and for years it has been used as a dumping ground and a place where iron and lumber were deposited. The lot is situated between Twenty-ninth street and Thirtieth, and extends from Spring alleys to Liberty street.

A number of the private property owners in Pittsburgh enjoy small parks before their doors. Of these the largest is found in Oakland square, the small park 300 by 75 feet in extent, lying in the center of that pretty resident district. It is held in joint possession by the property owners surrounding it. In Linden avenue and Thomas boulevard in the East End, a strip of center green extends down the center of each street. Several of the newer streets are being laid out on this plan.

In the heart of Allegheny is a park in the form of a hollow square, which is of historic interest. Old residents of the North Side tell how when Allegheny was laid out, it was surrounded by a park which became the pasture for the cows of the emifryo city. The park lands were allotted to the property owners whose lands faced it.

Riverview park is a beautiful pleasure ground in Allegheny covering the hills which lie back of the city and overlooking the Ohio river. It was formerly the Watson estate and consists of 247 acres of rich wooded land and beautiful drives. Its chief point of interest at present lies in the fact that it is the site of the fine new observatory which is just being completed. The building crowns a sightly eminence and can be seen for miles up and down the river.

Pittsburghers Going Abroad.

Mrs. Morton will return early in December, but her daughter and her son-in-law will remain abroad until spring.

Their plans are laid for a very pleasant trip of sightseeing. After a week in London they go to Holland where they will spend some time. They will sail up the Rhine, visiting its many historic places. From Switzerland they will go to Italy where they will spend the winter, proceeding farther south toward spring.

Here and There.

The congregation of St. Agnes' Roman Catholic church held a picnic yesterday at Calhoun park. The arrangements were carried out under the direction of the Rev. Fathers O'Donnell and Hackett. There were sports of various kinds, music and dancing. The proceeds of the picnic will be used to defray the expenses of painting and redecorating the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Wolfe of the East End, left yesterday for Cleveland where they will take a steamer for Ballast island, near Put-in-Bay.

DENOUNCES AUTHOR OF THE RESOLUTION

Twenty-First Ward Citizens Angry Over Action of School Director William E. Myers.

As the result of a resolution introduced at the meeting of the Twenty-first ward school board on August 1, requesting the resignation of Miss Lula A. Butler, as assistant principal of the Lincoln school, a petition is being circulated and receiving the names of many hundreds in the ward, censuring the resolution and also William E. Myers, the director who introduced it. The resolution failed of passage. The protest now being circulated follows:

"We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of this ward, through this petition, desire to enter a decisive protest against the act of Director William E. Myers, wherein he presented a written resolution before the board of directors at a meeting held Friday evening, August 1, 1902, at the Lincoln school, demanding the resignation of Miss Lula A. Butler, assistant principal, without making a statement concerning so unreasonable a request.

"Inasmuch as Miss Butler's faithfulness, ability and efficiency as a teacher have never been questioned, we characterize the resolution as unwarranted and unfair, and applaud the action of the board in promptly rejecting the resolution.

"We respectfully request that this be spread upon your minutes."

The old soldiers of the ward especially are taking an energetic interest in forwarding this protest. Miss Butler has been active in aiding their enterprises and is a member of Allegheny post, No. 88, G. A. R. Miss Butler has held the position of assistant principal for several years. Mr. Myers, who introduced the resolution, is a street car conductor.

COURT TERM ABANDONED.

Alleged Error of Jury Commissioners Defers Proceedings in Westmoreland County.

GREENSBURG, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A mistake said to have been made by the jury commissioners of Westmoreland county in the drawing of jurors for the August term of criminal court will necessitate the abondonment of the term. Deep interest was centered in the term in view of the fact that the famous Byers bond larceny case was to have been called for trial.

It is claimed that the jury commissioners wrongly classified the several weekly lists after making the drawings and instead of going to the judges of the court to have the mistake righted made the correction themselves. A thorough investigation is being made by the district attorney.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Aug. 13.—The Bostons won the first game of today's interesting double header by landing viciously on Chesbro's curves for seven hits and six runs in the eighth inning. The Pittsburgh team was carried off its feet by the unexpected onslaught and in its own last inning fell an easy victim, after having apparently put the game on ice. Dresser, a crack local left-handed pitcher, was given a try-out by Boston in the second contest and Pittsburgh won with comparative ease, six runs to one.

The second game was a sort of anti-climax to the brilliant batting rally that decided the first one in Boston's favor and raised 3,000 spectators to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Boston had played a game destitute of errors in the first contest, and Victor Willis' beautiful pitching was, therefore, given the necessary support both in batting and in fielding by the men behind him. But in the second game errors were frequent and all of them were costly to the locals' hopes.

Tenney Made a Bad Blunder.

One blunder by the redoubtable Tenney in the first inning gave the champions two of the three runs they got on this occasion and when in the fourth Pittsburgh's lead was measured by five tallies to none the contest began to take on a one-sided aspect. Dresser's failing was that he did not watch his bases when they were occupied.

The Pittsburgh players were prompt to grasp the situation as befits a championship team, and began to run bases almost at will. In the seventh Wagner performed the remarkable feat of purloining second, third and home successively, and scored a new record. During this game Clarke was ejected for expressing his disapproval of Umpire Irwin's decisions in too forcible a style.

Beaumont had dropped a fly, and Clarke and others tried to persuade the umpire that instead of muffing it Beaumont had given the ball a toss toward the infield. Even Clarke saw the humor of the situation and grinned as he walked to the bench. Long and Wagner carried off the fielding honors in the first game and in the second the three Pittsburgh infielders showed championship form.

Here is how the runs came in the first game. Boston started like a winner, as Conroy was fooled by the wind and Dexter's easy fly. Dexter promptly stole second. After Tenney and Cooley had filed to Beaumont, Leach, the usually reliable, threw Carney's grounder over Bransfield's head and Dexter scored, to the great glee of the fans. Then, after Demontreville had flied in the second inning, Long singled and stole second. Kittridge brought him home with a hit.

Where the Score Was Close.

Pittsburgh found Willis and made the score interestingly close in the fourth. Leach, the first man up, slammed out a neat double, went to third on Wagner's single, a fine stop by Long alone preventing a score. Leach came home when Tenney elected to put Bransfield out at first instead of trying for an out at the plate, while the sixth the Pirates took the lead. With one out Leach drew a pass, Wagner hit a long fly to right field, which Carney lost in the sun, the ball hitting him on the head without materially affecting its progress. Wagner kept on to third, and scored on Ritchey's timely single.

In the seventh the visitors apparently clinched the game, after two men were out. Clarke doubled, Beaumont singled, Leach dropped a home run over the left field fence. Then in the eighth came Chesbro's undoing. Dexter and Tenney hit safely. Cooley pushed a fast one down the third base line which Leach stopped with one hand and demanded that the umpire call foul. Pittsburgh alleged that it was three feet outside the lines when Leach pulled it down, but Irwin called it fair.

There was a long, ineffectual wrangle, and the bases were full, with no one out. Then Boston's picnic began. Carney scored two men with a single. Gremminger banged out a double and Demontreville cleared the bases with another. Long sacrificed down to third, and scored on Kittridge's hit. Pittsburgh was unable to rally and died early in the ninth.

Dresser Got a Good Start.

Young Dresser started prettily by striking out both Clarke and Beaumont. Leach and Wagner singled and worked a double steal while Dresser slept. Tannehill brought Leach home and then Tenney let Ritchey's hot grounder go between his legs and two more runs crossed the rubber. Wagner doubled with two out in the third but got no further. Pittsburgh made the best use of its hits in the fourth on Ritchey's single, Conroy's screaming triple, Dresser's error and Clarke's hit, all of which netted two runs. Boston got one in the sixth and saved a whitewash. Tenney led off with a double and Cooley brought him home with a well-placed single.

Big Hans Wagner performed a remarkable feat in the seventh. Demontreville muffed his easy fly and he promptly stole second. Then Tannehill and Ritchey had popped up and Wagner, Infield and Wagner decided that it was time to be up and doing. He started down to third before Dresser had pitched the ball and was safe by a mile. He brought the crowd to its feet by darting home on a pitched ball a minute later and by a long slide was returned a winner. It was a remarkable exhibition of base running. The score:

A serious accident to Bransfield would badly cripple the champions.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—River 6.6 ft. and 67 feet and falling. Weather partly clear, with light rains. The towboat Hornet No. 2, which has been laid up here for several days awaiting empties, went below tonight with a tow of coal for Louisville and way points. The steamer Clara is doing harbor work here. The relief, which is being remade after "turning turtle" on the bar at Rising Sun, will be finished in a few days.

LOUISVILLE—River falling. Canal, 5.7 feet; falls, 8.7 feet; foot of locks, 9 feet. Business good. Weather cloudy, pleasant. Packets in and out on time. The Fulton left for Cincinnati tonight. She comes back to Rising Sun to raise sunken rails. The Boaz and tow left for Cairo at noon; the coal is for the Finley to take south. The Defender and Raymond Hopner, with tows of bottles, arrived from New Orleans at noon and go on up tonight. Pilot Bob Boles, Jr., left for Pittsburgh at noon. Tom Patterson and Jim White went as pilots on the Boaz. Second Engineer Joe Sherman left for Cairo to go on the Finley.

THE BEAVER RIVER.

Delegation May Go to Parkersburg to Boom Its Improvement.

Capt. John F. Dravo, secretary of the Pittsburgh Coal Exchange, is just now endeavoring to stir up some enthusiasm throughout the Beaver valley for an improved Beaver river. The passage of the last river and harbor bill contained a clause authorizing a survey of the Beaver river. It is desired to make the stream navigable from its mouth to Beaver Falls so that towboats can take coal and other merchandise up that stream.

Capt. Dravo also wants the citizens of Beaver Falls to send a delegation to the next annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, which meets at Parkersburg in October, to help along the movement. The Beaver river is in the improved district to the upper Ohio and often when there is no rise out of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers there is a freshet of considerable proportions out of the Beaver. With the completion of the lock and dam at Merrill, which is just below Beaver, it will give the entrance to the Beaver river a very good harbor and a system of locks and dams to make the stream serviceable to Beaver Falls can be built at small expense. The new improved locks and stationary dams built the entire way across, and they are of benefit to a number of factories.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 6 o'clock last night was 7.7 feet and stationary.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. James D. Hays yesterday received a renewal of his master and pilot license.

New cylinders are being placed aboard the towboat H. D. Dilworth at the Monongahela wharf.

Half of the coal in the seven coalboats sunk at mouth at Sand creek by the towboat B. D. Woodside has been recovered.

A new chain was placed aboard the Charlotte yesterday at the Monongahela wharf. She completed repairs in the afternoon.

The American Sand and Gravel Company will put a big water pipe line across the Monongahela river, running it out from Eighth street. The Cruiser arrived from Sewickley. The Ida Wood tried to come into port from there on the slight swell, but could not make it.

The United States board of engineers who are inspecting the Pittsburgh harbor made an inspection of the harbor yesterday in the government steam yacht Wenonah.

Two loaded barges of coal grounded at the mouth of the Licking river Monday afternoon by the Jas. Rees and Sons towboat Tuesday morning by the towboat Frank Miller.

Capt. W. N. Gordon, freight agent of the Anchor line of packets, the Independent Morgantown line and the Jas. Rees, is home having been threatened with appendicitis.

Frank D. Holbrook of the Wheeling engineers office and Charles R. Humphreys and William Lee, assistants, are assisting, have started on the work of surveying and locating dam No. 11 at Beach Bottom.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the annual jaunt of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, has decided on the next steamboat excursion and outing at Moss Side park Wednesday, September 3.

The new independent Monongahela line, according to its officers, is doing a splendid business. In fact it is said that this line has started out under brighter auspices than any other independent line that has bid for patronage.

The towboat Jack Frost, which is coming with 17 empties, will have them reloaded at the mines of the A. R. Budd Coal Company for Pittsburgh. The Jack Frost left Sunday down into Ohio river yesterday to assist the Frost in.

Capt. Isaac B. Williams, the local government steamboat hull inspector, has the tonsilitis. He is at his desk, however. Many persons are afflicted with this ailment just now, physicians attributing it to the cold weather.

Capt. Richard Elwell yesterday reported to the local steamboat inspectors the drowning of the two women at the point several nights ago. It will be remembered that the steamer, the Little Fred, struck the boat which contained them.

The Ohio river rose to a stage of 5 feet and then began to fall. The slight rise enabled the queen to come through, but she was late getting here, being detained by low water. She arrived yesterday at 11 a. m. The boat returned last night to Cincinnati with an immense passenger trip.

Britt King, a deckhand, employed on the Harry P. Jones, several days ago jumped overboard at Delson because it is alleged the crew would not stop the boat to allow him to go ashore. King was drowned. As he was ignorant of the matter has been made to the local steamboat inspectors, as the law directs, the latter are incensed at the actions of the master of the boat.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company yesterday sold to S. W. Carpenter, the diver, the small towing steamer Gilbert. The boat will do jobbing work for Mr. Carpenter, he being greatly in need of a craft of the kind. The Olivette has engines having 12½-inch cylinders and a 3½-foot stroke. The craft brought $4,500. During the coaling fals the boat will be put on the ways and thoroughly repaired.

WON ON ONE HIT.

Wheeling Team Piles Up a Record at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—By winning today's game on one hit Wheeling made a record of winning two games on three hits, yesterday's game having been won on two safeties. Goff played a poor game at third, his error, Ganier's error and Burns' passed ball being responsible for Wheeling's only run in the ninth inning. Jones pitched a wonderful game, and should have won with ease. Score:

WILL HAVE HARD WORK.

Joe Nelson Must Go Fast to Beat Freeman.

The meeting of Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore., and Joe Nelson on Saturday night of this week, in a 20-mile motor-paced race at the Colosseum track in Allegheny, will be the first of the races in which the boy rider, whose work has caused such a sensation in the cycle racing world, will meet the pace-following whose records entitle them to a place among the leaders. Arrangements have already been made to match Nelson against Champion, Elkes and Walthour and for that reason the result of his contest with Freeman will be watched with a great deal of interest.

SYNDICATE GETS FOURTH DIVIDEND OF FIVE PER CENT

Underwriters of Steel Corporation Receive $10,000,000 More for Strong Box.

PROFITS ARE UNDIVIDED

Everyone Seems Afraid to Ask Morgan When Combination Is to Be Dissolved — Prosperity in Steel Discussed by Large Producer.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 13.—Members of the United States Steel Corporation underwriting syndicate received today a third dividend of 5 per cent on the face of the $200,000,000 subscribed. The dividend involves, therefore, the distribution of $10,000,000. It will be remembered that the underwriting syndicate which guaranteed the success of the United States flotation subscribed an aggregate of $200,000,000, only 12½ per cent of which, or $25,000,000, was ever called. That was all the money the underwriters ever advanced. Early in the current calendar year a dividend of 12½ per cent was declared, which amounted really to the return of the $25,000,000 originally advanced. Since then, including that announced today, there have been three dividends of 5 per cent, or $10,000,000 each.

Since their original money was returned to them the underwriters, therefore, have realized $30,000,000, or 120 per cent, profit on their venture. It was understood in the beginning that the syndicate should expire by limitation in May of this year, but for some unknown reason its dissolution has been indefinitely postponed, and the members are ignorant of what Mr. Morgan proposes to do about it. There has been a lot of quiet criticism of the Morgan policy in thus mysteriously continuing the existence of the syndicate, but nobody has dared to ask for an accounting.

Morgan's Control Absolute.

It is a singular fact that nobody ever asks Mr. Morgan for an accounting. Those who are associated with him in his big undertakings simply take what comes to them and ask no questions. Returns are always handsome, to be sure, and hence Morgan followers as a rule are content to wait in proper silence. In the case of the steel underwriting syndicate, however, the waiting is peculiarly trying, because something like $30,000,000 undivided profits are believed still to remain to the credit of the underwriters. No one knows when the business will be closed up.

Some idea of the enormous earning power of the several express companies may be had from the balance sheet of Wells, Fargo & Company, issued today, showing the profits on its banking business during the last fiscal year. This company is authorized to do both an express and a general banking business. Its express operations cover 45,000 miles of railroad. Its main bank is in San Francisco, with branches in New York, Salt Lake City and Portland. Its banking business is capitalized at $500,000. The balance sheet of July 1 shows an increase in undivided profits for the fiscal year of $2,028,204. The increase alone is equivalent to more than 400 per cent on the banking capital.

Gates Becomes Conservative.

It appears that a more conservative sentiment is beginning to prevail in professional ranks. The western party, to judge from the literature it is issuing from its Wall street headquarters, has adopted a more conservative attitude. This is not to say that the western influence is any less bullish than it was, but rather that as a speculative party the western operators have been brought to see that existing conditions demand caution for the sake of the market's future. The following from Harris, Gates & Co. to its clients represents precisely the western attitude:

"The drift of the stock market seems to be toward a seasonably and technically ideal position—narrow and steady. Actual material prosperity in every department of activity is too palpable, too visible to the naked eye to permit the growth of bearish sentiment or encourage the selling of property, yet the exigencies of the monetary situation compel conservatism. The banks are preparing themselves for the demands almost certain to be made on their resources during the next 90 days, and there is no likelihood of undue pinching in any quarter if the bulls in stocks restrain themselves within reasonable bounds."

Bank Reserves Low.

Further gold exports seem immediately less probable, but the bank reserves need to be replenished. The leading banking interests of the street are understood to have served notice that they cannot finance an active bull market yet a while, and as a rule the several speculative combinations seem decent enough to have heeded the warning. The banks always have the whip hand. They are reluctant at any time to use the screws, and appear to be reluctant to do so in this present situation, but the older traders understood that hints such as have been given out this week are not to be ignored.

Rock Island declined today to 180¾, the lowest price yet recorded since the finance scheme came out. The only explanation is that the Moore party is unwilling to make a hard market for the benefit of those who are selling their stock in preference to exchange it for the new securities. It is announced officially that the deposits of stock under the new capital plan have been satisfactory in point of volume, which they ought to be in view of the fact that the Messrs. Moore and their associates have a big majority of the stock, but minority holdings are being presistently liquidated. At intervals this week inside support has appeared, but it has not been at all enthusiastic.

One of the largest of the steel producers, who has been actively engaged in various branches of the steel business for 30 years, expresses the opinion that the general public does not begin to appreciate the complete change which has occurred in the steel industry.

Assists General Prosperity.

"In the past," he added, "the iron and steel trade has been the most uncertain of all manufacturing enterprises and a threat to all other industries, whenever it became prosperous. This is no longer the truth. The steel industry is now enjoying almost unparalleled prosperity, and no one will for a moment say that it is in any way endangering the general prosperity of the country. On the other hand, it is assisting this prosperity in every way through the establishment of prices on a conservative basis and the general refusal to allow any runaway prices.

"The aim of the largest producers is to make the steel and iron trade a stable industry, to eliminate from it, as far as possible, the enormous fluctuations in prices which have occurred in the past, and to create a constant and steady products. It is largely due to this policy which has caused the present activity in the steel trade, which has already lasted three years, to show no sign of abatement. With a rare and exceptional foresight the largest producers are bending all of their resources to maintaining a steady price for their output and are making all future contracts at the same rate, refusing to make any advance in quotations. Of course the steel and iron industries, like all others, will in the future fluctuate with the demand and supply, but the speculative features, which have formed such a large part of these two industries in the past have been almost wholly eliminated. This is an important fact which must be remembered in all current discussions on the present prosperity existing in the steel and iron industries. E. W. HARDEN."

Distribution of Profits Is the Cause of Slight Gain in Stock.

WABASH ALSO AFFECTED

Aggressive Steps to Secure Terminal Facilities in Pittsburgh and Baltimore for Eastern Extensions Strengthen Trading.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 13.—There was no improvement in the activity of the trading in the stock market today, but the tone was firmer and did not reflect the disposition to liquidate on all advances which was the feature of yesterday's market. For the most part, however, the representative stocks were neglected and sluggish. The Gould stocks were the most conspicuous in the trading, Missouri Pacific leading in point of activity. There were heavy dealings also in all the Wabash securities and in Texas & Pacific.

The Southwestern railroads are expected to gain a special benefit from the large corn crop, and the winter wheat crop in that territory is also in a high average condition. The Wabash stocks were especially affected by reports of aggressive steps being taken to secure terminal facilities both in Pittsburgh and in Baltimore for the use of Wabash's eastern extensions.

There was a fitful speculation in the soft coal stocks based upon the benefit felt by that trade as an incident of the paralysis of the anthracite trade. There were persisting rumors as well of an intention on the part of the Norfolk & Western directors to advance the dividend rate on that stock.

Helped the Goulds.

The settlement of the elevated railroad troubles helped Manhattan and the Goulds as a group. There was a notable show of strength in a number of minor railroad stocks, especially in the granger region. The brokers employed by the speculative interest which accomplished the Louisville & Nashville transfer were conspicuous in these operations. The National Lead stocks responded to the reports of a combination of the Lead interests of the country.

United States Steel shot up ¾ on the news of an additional distribution of $10,000,000 profits to the underwriting syndicate, thus bringing the total distribution up to $30,000,000 on actual paid in subscriptions of $200,000,000. The stock relapsed quickly into comparative inactivity, but with a fractional gain retained.

The aggressive steps being taken on behalf of the Northern Securities Company to clear up litigation against that corporation and the hopeful views expressed of its earnings by James J. Hill give the impression that active steps are pending toward a distribution of the stock. This and many other plans are supposed to be waiting upon the return of J. P. Morgan, who sailed for New York today.

Some Weak Features.

Amongst the weak features Amalgamated Copper was affected by the unstable tone of the raw copper market. The price of Rock Island was lowered, supposedly with a view to discourage the disposition of minority holders to liquidate their holdings rather than consent to the conversion plan.

Funds were more freely offered on call today and the rate was easier. The active export demand for wheat encouraged the offering of exchange bills and the rate for sterling showed no recovery from yesterday's decline. The closing was quite active and irregular.

Wabash debenture B's were the feature of the bond market. The Central of Georgia 2d incomes were also in demand. Total sales par value $2,710,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES

The total sales for the day were 479,000 shares.

Wabash showed strength because of efforts to secure Pittsburgh and Baltimore terminals.

United States Steel went up ¾ on news of distribution of profits to the underwriting syndicate.

Granger railroads were conspicuous in the trading by reason of heavy crop prospects.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

Despite some irregularity, the stock market was fairly well sustained yesterday under a continuance of manipulative orders. There was no enlargement of public interest and commission house business was reported as practically at a standstill. Brokers reported that customers were waiting for developments, apparently unwilling either to buy or sell, while the monetary situation still remains undetermined. The pools and cliques made a fair "counterfeit presentment" of the market, but it was noted that activity was shifted to the specialties, where manipulation at this stage is safer, there being less likelihood of the manipulators loading themselves up with stocks than if the movements were started in the better distributed issues.

The movement of the day was chiefly notable for a revival of activity in that class of stocks which their owners call "specialties," but which the street designates as "cats and dogs." Whether rightly or wrongly in this category were included the activity which developed in Toledo, St. Louis & Western common and preferred, Des Moines & Fort Dodge common, International Paper, Kanawha & Michigan, Chicago Great Western common, Keokuk & Des Moines and a few others. Some of these properties have only a potentive value, and that still far from realization. Nothing developed to explain their sudden burst into prominence, yet some of them were among the most active issues of the day.

News developments bearing upon the general situation were again lacking in novelty unless the break in demand sterling exchange be considered such. Sight bills go down to 4.8765, against a close at 4.8780 on Tuesday. This was due largely to the continued firm tendency of time and call money. Crop and weather advices were favorable, though under short covering, and some movements which foreshadowed a deal in September corn. Both wheat and corn advanced. Traffic returns which came to hand were of a generally satisfactory nature. In matter of a specific nature, the distribution of 5 per cent dividend on the United States Steel underwriting excited favorable influence, and the same was true of the adjustment of the labor difficulty bewcen the Manhattan elevated road and its employes.

The money market still engaged the attention of the street, but there was a disposition to take a more rational view of the situation, upon the theory that "forewarned is forearmed." There was no quotable change in the rates, call funds still ruling at 3½@4 per cent and time funds at from 4¼@5, with continued inquiry for long time loans. Sterling loans were again reported in the market, but the decline in exchange late in the day robbed these operations of much of the profit which was present earlier in the week.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Late advices from Idaho note that the district of Marshall Lake is now receiving the attention of miners and prospectors. Nearly every prospect shows gold ore, and while the leads are not large, assays run high and the rock is free milling. Several companies are operating successfully in the Black Lake district, north of the Seven Devils.

Colorado men have started work on the Crown, at the head of Government creek, Thunder Mountain region. The ledge in this group, on which work was started four years ago, varies from 100 to 500 feet, and seems to be very valuable. The ore is a concentrating proposition.

Contracts have been made for the erection of a smelter for the Majestic at Milford, Utah. The plant will have an initial capacity of 350 tons per day, and will be in operation next year. Later on three more furnaces, each of 250 tons capacity, will be started.

On the 625 foot level of the Dixie, at Fort George, Utah, the channel is 40 feet wide and runs from 17 to 20 per cent copper. The main shaft is down 675 and feet at 700 feet the channel will again be crosscut and ore blocked in readiness for the new smelter.

Two good strikes are reported in the Pearl district, Wyoming. At the Zinkel, a 16-foot vein of high-grade sulphide has been uncovered and the Big Horn has opened a three-foot vein of bornite and peacock copper.

The 1,000-ton smelter of the New Monarch, at Salida, Col., will be blown in next week. The plant, which will treat ore from several districts, has cost $1,000,000.

Prospectors are flocking to Houghton mountain, near Ouray, Col., where a big gold strike is announced in the Early Bird. The breast of the tunnel shows 14 inches of ore carrying high values in gold and silver and from 6 to 9 per cent copper, and two feet of low-grade bismuth iron running from $7 to $10 gold, with some silver and copper.

It is reported that 18 inches of rich sylvanite has been entered on the 300-foot level of Stratton's Independence at Cripple Creek. The mine continues to output from 250 to 275 tons a day.

Great scarcity is reported on the Princess Maud at Republic, Wash., where a pay chute 4½ feet wide, 90 feet long and 100 feet high, averaging $30 per ton, was recently opened up.

Former owners of the Goleonda, at Sumpter, Ore., have started suit against Charles A. Smith of Pittsburgh, who had the mine under bond for a year. They contend that the conditions of the agreement were not carried out by the defendant.

The Metal Market.

A soft market continued in copper today and prices lost ⅛c before the close under heavy offerings of the metal, which found few takers. Buyers hold off for further reductions, feeling sure that such will come. Production was never so large and holders are becoming more and more anxious to realize on a part at least of their stocks. Despite the break in prices little business resulted and the market closed dull and nominal in tone, with spot, at $11 00@11 50; lake, $11 60@11 77½; electrolytic, $11 50@11 62½; casting, $11 50@11 60. The London market closed 5s 6d to 10s within two days of nearly 75 points. Buyers were scarce and beyond a few small sales business was unimportant. Spot closed at $27 8⅞@28 10. No change occurred in the lead situation today, and prices were steady at $4 12 for spot here. London closed at £11 2s 6d. Spelter also was unchanged at home and abroad and is about steady, closing here at $5 45 and at London at £18 12s 6d. Iron held quiet and firm, without change. Warrants nominal; No. 1 foundry, northern, $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $22 00@25 00. English markets were easy, with Glasgow at 56s 3d and Middlesboro at 51s 7½d.

GRAIN MARKET IS ACTIVE WITH STRONG CLOSE

The Chicago Pit Experienced Rad

Local Stocks Were Strong and Active, With Sensational Advances

BIG DEAL FOR WESTINGHOUSE AIRBRAKE ON

Alleged That Pittsburgh Pool Has Secured Control of the New York Co.

A. V. PREFERRED BOOMS

Record-Breaking Prices Paid for the Stock—Window Glass and Steel Shares Firmer—Fire Proofing Was Easier—Electric Seconds Lower.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was one of the most sensational local financial circles have witnessed in some time. It was quite active and generally strong, some exciting advances and record-breaking prices occurring. Chief among these was a boom in Allegheny Valley railroad preferred stock, firmness and activity in the steel issues and a rally in American Window Glass common, with some easiness in Westinghouse Electric seconds. What might have been sensational than either of the foregoing was not largely touched upon, because of the excessiveness of the information. This relates to a big deal looking toward the absolute control of the New York Airbrake Company by the Westinghouse Airbrake Company. It is stated upon authority that can scarcely be questioned that a Pittsburgh syndicate or "pool," composed of some leading men who are closely affiliated with the Westinghouse Airbrake Company and large shareholders in that institution, have secured control of a block of 50,000 shares of the New York Airbrake Company, and will, as soon as President George Westinghouse arrives in New York, turn it over to him.

With what stock he and his associates now own in the New York company, this 50,000 shares will give the Westinghouse company absolute control over its only competitor. The pool has been quietly at work since the big advance in Westinghouse stock some two or three months ago, and within the week notified some of its members here that it now holds the balance of power. At what price it will transfer its holdings is not definitely decided, but, as its principals are large owners of Westinghouse Airbrake stock and urgently desire the deal to go through, the figure will not be exhorbitant. The pool is said to have some official assurance that its stock will be accepted as soon as Mr. Westinghouse can act on the matter. With the New York Airbrake Company absorbed, the Westinghouse company will be freed from the only competition that has ever been said to interfere with its business. The New York company has a capital of $10,000,000 authorized and $8,612,500 outstanding. It pays quarterly dividends of 2 per cent, the last being paid July 15. The Westinghouse Airbrake Company has $11,000,000 capital and is now paying dividends at the rate of 24 per cent per annum. There has been considerable quiet buying of the stock recently, particularly by a house close to the pool, and yesterday one broker took all that offered at 184 and wanted more. At the New York quotations this price is equal to 368, while New York Airbrake is quoted at 185. Bulls on the stock say the pools' success means much higher prices for Westinghouse Airbrake and predict 200 or more in their enthusiasm. For some time it has been hinted that something "big" was up in "Airbrake," but the information given in the foregoing was closely kept, and consequently has had no influence in the market for the stock.

Allegheny Valley railroad preferred stock was the sensational feature of the open market yesterday, over 2,800 shares changing hands. The opening was at 28 and the stock quickly, points at a time, jumped to 34, a new high record and a gain of $6 a share over the preceding day. The buying was attributed to orders from Philadelphia, but there was a good local demand. The sudden movement in the stock is probably due to a belief that the Pennsylvania railroad means to take it in at the rate of one share of P. R. R. for two of A. V. R. R. preferred, as exclusively announced in this department Tuesday morning. The Pennsylvania now owns $9,653,800 out of a total of $10,544,200 A. V. R. R. common outstanding, and $11,876,655 out of a total of $17,172,750 preferred outstanding. The accrued dividends on the preferred will amount to $15 75 September 1. It is figured that the terminal facilities of the Allegheny Valley railroad in the city are worth easily from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. The activity in Allegheny Valley railroad undoubtedly influenced the remainder of the list. The steel shares, particularly the Crucible Steel issues, were in good demand and unusually active, the common advancing to 22 on sales of 525 shares and the preferred to 87 on sales of 725 shares. U. S. Steels were dull but firmer, and from ½ to ¾ higher. Window Glass opened firm at 42⅞ and advanced to 43, but reacted later to 42¾. The preferred was dull but firmer at 95. Fire Proofing issues were dull and easier, declining from ⅜ to ½. The directors are due to meet today and much curiosity is manifested as to the result. The coalers were quieter but steady to firm. River Coals did not sell, but the preferred advanced to 40¼ bid. Westinghouse Electric seconds were much less active, and closed with a loss of ⅜ at 108¾. Bonds were neglected, in the quotations Peoples Natural Gas advanced to 96 bid, a new high record, and Manufacturers' Light and Heat went up to 71⅝, a new high record, on the present capitalization. It is semi-officially stated that the directors of the company have decided to advance the dividend rate from 8 to 10 per cent per annum, and that the company is now earning at the rate of 30 per cent on the capital. There is a rumor also that the Philadelphia Company is willing to pay $100 a share for the Manufacturers' Light and Heat stock, but this lacked any confirmation. At the close the market was somewhat quieter.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I hear Texas Pacific is a purchase.

We near strong bull talk on Manhattan.

I think both Missouri Pacific and Texas Pacific can go higher from here on.

We desire to again call your attention to the Wabash securities, particularly the debenture B's, which we believe will have a good move ere long.—Lounsbery.

The pools are buying Missouri Pacific again and I hear it is going much higher.

We think the Gould stocks strong the St. Louis & Southwestern issues ought to do better.

Small Sales Predominate in Realty Market

MILLVALE SITE REPORTED SOLD FOR $150,000

Graff-Bennett Property May Be Used for Tin Plate Mill.

SOUTH SIDE PURCHASES

Fine Country Home Sold—Oliver-Snyder Steel Co. Will Build Fifty Houses—Amount of Property Near McKees Rocks Condemned.

From reliable sources it was learned yesterday that the Graff-Bennett property at Millvale, the sale of which was reported in The Gazette yesterday, is to pass into the hands of a large tin plate company, which proposes to erect a big plant on the site at once. The consideration named is $150,000, or about $30,000 an acre. The property, which was occupied by a mill for many years, is in two parcels, lying on opposite sides of the West Penn and Pittsburgh & Western tracks. On the lower side of the tracks, extending to the low water mark of the Allegheny river, are about two acres, the lower end of which will have to be filled in considerably to make it available for a manufacturing site. This portion adjoins the Baeuerlein brewery property. On the upper side of the tracks the plat includes nearly three acres, and lies in the curve formed by the Butler plank road, on which the Millvale and Etna street car line runs. The property has a frontage of over 400 feet along the tracks. It was purchased some time ago by F. N. Hoffstot. This is one of the best manufacturing sites left vacant in Allegheny, it being on the line of the West Penn, the Pittsburgh & Western and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroads, giving it first-class shipping facilities.

More P., V. & C. Deals.

The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company, has secured title to three more South Side properties for a consideration of $20,550. The largest one was purchased from Tuliana Aulenbacher and consists of an improved lot 40x561 feet, at the southeast corner of South Seventeenth street and Edwards alley, Twenty-sixth ward. This property brought $15,000. Another improved property, 20x90 feet, was bought from Anna Steen for $3,600. It lies in the south side of Edwards alley, and has erected on it a small frame house. The third property is an improved lot, 30x90 feet, in the southwest side of Carson street, near Sarah street, Twenty-fourth ward. This was secured from Michael Moore for $2,-900.

James M. Campbell has purchased from Harry McDonald the latter's country home at Brightwood station on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad for $11,000. The property formerly belonged to ex-Congressman William Sipe, and was bought by Mr. McDonald only a short time ago. It consists of a five-acre plot, situated just above the station, and having erected on it a handsome new brick house of 12 rooms. The new owner will, it is said, occupy the property as a home.

Fifty Tenement Houses.

The Oliver-Snyder Steel Company has had plans prepared by Architect William Glyde Wilkins for 50 double frame houses, to be built at Vance's mill, located on the line of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway in Fayette county. The houses will cost in the neighborhood of $2,600 each, and bids are now being asked on their construction.

The reported sale by the Crescent Land Company of 75 lots in McCoy avenue, McKees Rocks, which was published in the morning paper, proves to have been slightly in error. No sale has been effected nor has any definite offer been made by any railroad for the property. Instead, the entire property of the Crescent Land Company, 500 lots, 25x110 feet each, has been condemned by the Pittsburgh Terminal & Coal Railroad, formerly the West Belt Line. This company proposes to build a line from Clairton to Neville island and has instituted condemnation proceedings against several hundred acres in McKees Rocks, Esplen and near Saw Mill run. The Crescent Land Company property comprises about 62 acres along Island avenue, and its extension and is valued at $240,000. No bonds have been filed by the railroad company against it, as it is expected that an amicable settlement can be effected.

An Oakland Purchase.

The United Real Estate & Construction Company has sold to Henry K. E. Arnold two lots in Dean's second plan, Fourteenth ward, for $13,000. The lots measure 48.5x100 feet, on the south side of Ophelia street, and are improved with two new brick houses of 10 rooms each.

Hannah Bedilion has bought from Gustavus C. Davis two properties in Hazelwood for $10,000. They are two lots measuring 56x120 feet and are located at the south corner of Second avenue and Renova street.

Work was commenced yesterday on the excavation for the foundation of the new Reformed church in Homeville, which is to be erected at a cost of $10,000.

The Enterprise Land & Improvement Company of Homestead yesterday awarded to Elliott Marks the contract to erect four eight-room frame houses, with all modern improvements, in McClure street, Munhall, each to cost $2,000. The houses will be sold when completed.

Big East End Deal Reported.

A report was current yesterday that 90 feet of Penn avenue frontage in East Liberty had changed owners through the agency of Capt. G. W. McCallam. The property is well improved and is said to have been bought by a leading business man who will hold it for investment. Capt. McCallam when seen declined to discuss the sale, although he did not deny that articles of agreement had been signed for the transfer of the property. Penn avenue frontage in this district is valued at from $2,000 to $3,000 a front foot, according to location.

William M. Pease has purchased three properties in the Thirteenth ward for $11,800. From James S. Campbell he secured a lot, 50x150 feet, on the south side of Iowa street and Herron avenue, for $6,600. Another lot, 50x150 feet, at the southwest corner of Iowa street and Herron avenue, was bought from Alice C. Fricke for $2,600. A third lot, 50x130 feet, adjoining the latter in Iowa street, was purchased from J. R. Fricke, for $2,600.

New Residence Planned.

Negley avenue: The United Realty Trust Company sold for Reed B. Coyle to T. P. Roberts a lot, 85x200 feet, in North Negley avenue, for $2,100. The purchaser will improve with a new house this fall.

Glenwood: Samuel W. Black & Co. sold for the Glenwood Land Company lot No. 123, in its plan at Glenwood, for $1,100 cash.

The following sales have been made this week in McKees Rocks; George C. Cooke for William Vannoy to J. E. Schaefer, an eight-room frame house, lot 20x100 feet, in Island avenue, $3,200. Also for J. E. Schaefer to A. Caney a four-room frame house, lot 48x72 feet, in Davis avenue, Crescent plan, for $1,500. C. A. Carter & Co. sold for Benedict Zahn to Mrs. Ellen Morgan an improved lot, 24x118 feet, in Island avenue, for $2,700. C. I. Barr & Co. sold for Kidd & Burgher to Fred Bruner a lot, 25x100 feet, in Island avenue, for $1,000. The lot has erected on it a new brick house.

F. S. Ziegler, salesman for P. D. Nicols & Co., sold for the estate of Dr. J. C. Barr to Dr. Elder Crawford, the residence and office of Dr. Barr, deceased, in Mars, Pa., for $5,032.

Flats in McKees Rocks.

The Crescent Land Company has nearly completed a fine four-story flat building in Island avenue, McKees Rocks. The building contains eight flats of four rooms each and is handsomely finished throughout. The location of the purchase in the central portion of McKees Rocks is a sure evidence that good flats well located will pay a good income on their cost, even at the present high prices of building.

Craig street: The Real Estate Trust Company sold for J. K. and Hattie G. Moorhead to C. Z. F. Rott No. 340 North Craig street, a frame house, on l

CORPORATION IS DEALING FOR BIG LOT OF IRON

Wants 50,000 Tons and May Get a Lower Price Than Offered Before.

CONDITION AN ANOMALY

Continued Strength in Nearly All Iron and Steel Markets Is Insured by a New Rush of Inquiries—Corporation Not Quoting Many Lines.

A rush of inquiries by the iron and steel buyers indicates that the strength of the market which has existed throughout the year is to be maintained. While Bessemer pig iron sales have exhausted most of the production till well into the second quarter of next year, a conservative element has brought about a seemingly anomalous condition of easier prices. Some small lots of Bessemer iron for delivery early next year have been sold at $21 50 a ton.

There is room for some heavy new business a little later, and this could probably draw out lower prices. The United States Steel Corporation is again negotiating for a supply of 50,000 tons for delivery in the second half of next year, and the price probably will be brought down below the offer of the associated furnacemen for a much larger lot of iron, which was being figured on about six months ago.

In nearly all lines of iron and steel production excepting sheets, tin plate and wire and wire rods the producing mills have either sold their output to the end of the year or well into next year. Efforts of urgent buyers to get earlier deliveries bring out offers of sharp premiums.

Some Steel at Fancy Price.

The scarcity of steel seems to be becoming more pronounced. It is likely that domestic billets for forward shipment could be bought for $33 or $33 50 a ton, but recent transactions in small lots for prompt shipment have brought a price of $35 50 a ton.

The Carnegie Steel Company, National Steel Company and the American Steel Hoop Company have sold their output in practically all lines of production well into next year. These interests are understood to have nothing of consequence to offer to the trade till well into next year.

With all the producers the new business in structural material that is being taken is for delivery as far ahead as the fourth month of next year. Of the Carnegie plant production there is none available before next year. Its output of merchant bar has also been sold for the rest of the year.

Early in October some of the associations governing minimum prices in the plate, merchant steel, structural and other markets will resume their periodical meetings. Some price alterations are scarcely avoidable, and they will be advances.

Ask More Than Pool Price.

Some of the members of the so-called merchant bar pool are now declining to take any business, no matter how remote for delivery, at less than an addition of $2 a ton over the base price of the pool.

Another indication that the present full strength of the market is established in raw and semi-finished material lies in the rush of specifications at the mills on the old contracts. Nearly all mills are rushed to their maximum capacity and the shipping departments continue to struggle to get a sufficient car service.

In the week past there has been a fair delivery of coke from the Connellsville region to the Pittsburgh and Valley furnaces, and most of them are operating to near their capacities. None of them have stocks of coke, however. For contract business with deliveries into next year, coke may be bought at near the average of $2 50 a ton on the last heavy contracts, but for spot coke at the ovens buyers who are not old customers and who are coming in by reason of the anthracite colliery suspension and the suspension of West Virginia coal mining operations are offering $4 and more the ton.

Rail Buyers Waiting.

A report that the Santa Fe and the Burlington railroads had placed their orders for rails for next year delivery is denied. Some of the heavy buyers of rails are waiting, but with no expectation of lower prices, the present price of $28 on standard sections having been firmly established for all business delivered next year. The rail producers now have orders booked for next year's delivery amounting to something over 1,000,000 tons. In addition, there will be about 400,000 tons carried over from this year and the aggregate will engage all the rail mills well into the second half of the new year.

With the Bessemer iron producers there is practically no room for new business before March, next year. Sales of about 1,700 tons were made in the past week for forward delivery, at $21 50 a ton at the furnaces in the valleys.

Forge iron consumers have been doing little buying in several weeks past. Some of the producers are holding northern gray forge iron at $21 75 delivered at Pittsburgh any time within the first half of next year. It is possible, however, that some of this material could be had at this figure for earlier shipment, and at as low as $21 for forward shipment.

Foundry Iron at Advance.

Foundry iron sales of the past week have brought out prices about 50 cents a ton higher than have existed. Sales of about 10,000 tons, for delivery in Pittsburgh in the first half of next year, were made at $22 50 the ton, Pittsburgh.

Some few sales of small lots of Bessemer billets for prompt delivery are reported at $35 50 a ton. The nominal price on forward steel continues from $33 to $34 for the domestic product, while the foreign steel is still offered here at from $32 50 to $33 a ton, the consumers hesitating to buy it because the working of the material is unsatisfactory.

Domestic producers of ferro-manganese are holding out of the market by placing the same prohibitive price of $52 50 a ton on the product, while the foreign material is still available at $50 a ton.

There has been some new strength added to the wire and wire nail markets, and as a result, the present comparatively low price on steel rods may be advanced at any time. Now the price is about $35 50 a ton.

Year's Output Sold.

Few producers of rails of whatever weight can offer to take new business for shipment ahead of the end of the year. Prices remain as follows: 200-ton and larger lots in standard sections, $28 a ton; $30 for carlots and $32 for less than carlots; $38 for 50, 35 and 40-pound rails in carlots; $39 for 25-pound, $40 for 20-pound, $42 for 16-pound and $45 for 12-pound. Girder and T rails for traction use are from $38 to $40 a ton.

The American Steel Hoop Company and some other producers have no common bar iron to offer before the end of the year. The price for forward shipment ranges from $1 80 to $1 90 for 100 pounds.

The strong demand for skelp continues with the material very scarce. The price on wide steel skelp is nominally $2 25 the 100 pounds, with scarcely any available. Iron skelp is bringing prices from $2 40 to $2 50 for 100 pounds.

The leading Pittsburgh producer of muck bar is out of the market for months ahead. The price holds at $36 50 a ton.

Plate Market Much Stronger.

Pittsburgh producers of plates sold about 10,000 tons in the past week for delivery running into the first two months of next year. The forward business is being closed at the old pool prices, while urgent buyers are offering premiums of $4 and more a ton for an earlier supply. Within a month or so the available capacity of the plate mills has been sold for a period of three or four months. Base prices are as follows: Tank plate $1 60 for 100 pounds for plates up to 100 inches in width, and 5c extra for 100 pounds for wide sizes; flange plates, $1 70 for 100 pounds; stillbottom steel, $1 90 for 100 pounds; locomotive firebox, not less than 82 higher; 2-10-inch plates, $1 a ton extra; gauged Nos. 8 and 9, $2 a ton extra; circles, $1 80 for 100 pounds.

There is still some room for new business in merchant bar before the end of the year. Pittsburgh producers sold within the week past about 7,000 tons, some of which will be delivered before the end of this year. The base price is $1 60 for 100 pounds.

Pittsburgh producers of structural material sold nearly 20,000 tons the past week for delivery running well into next year. Base prices continue as follows: Beams and channels, from 3 to 15-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; beams, 18 to 24-inch, $1 70 for 100 pounds; angles, 3 to 6-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; tees, 3 to 6-inch, $1 65 for 100 pounds.

Sheet Market Lagging.

A lagging condition continues in the sheet market, while many of the mills are closed for inventory and repairs. New business can be handled in about a month. On heavy orders in galvanized sheets the lowest price, equivalent to 75 per cent off the old lists, is still being offered. The price on black sheets continues to range from $3 a ton for the No. 28 gauge.

The tin plate producers who have a number of their mills closed under the usual plan of summer suspension, can take new business for delivery in a month. The price continues at $4 for the 100-pound box of standard plates.

Steel hoop prices hold at $1 90 for 100 pounds in lots of 200 tons and more, while lesser lots bring $2 and more.

Producers of the finer lines of merchant and crucible steel are keeping their prices at what they have been during most of the year, and are being crowded with new business well into next year. Prices remain as follows: Tire steel, $1 80 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $2 25; spring steel, $2 25; plow slabs, $2 25; rolled law steel, $2 50 to $2 75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality; cold-rolled shafting, 42 and 47 per cent off the list.

Old material prices are as follows: No. 1 melting stock, $21 to $21 50; No. 1 cast scrap, $18 50 and $19; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22 50 to $23; turnings, $15 50; borings, $12 to $12 50; old steel rails, $21 50; old iron rails, $26; steel rails for re-rolling, $24.

Hardware and Tube Prices.

The hardware market is characterized by an upward tendency. Wire nails are in good demand and the mills are making prompt delivery. The cut nail situation, however, is at present in a very unsatisfactory condition, owing to the fact that manufacturers are unable to make prompt deliveries.

The Bindley Hardware Company submits the following prices: Wire nails, carlots, $2 10; less than carlots, $2 15; plain wire galvanized, carlots, $2 50; less than carlots, $2 65 per 100 pounds; barbed wire, galvanized, carlots, $3 00; less than carlots, $3 10 per 100 pounds; window glass, carlots, 90 per cent off list, less than carlots, 88 and 5 per cent off list; Juniata horseshoes, steel, $3 65, and iron, $3 95 per keg.

KAUFMANN'S "THE BIG STORE" AND MILL AND FACTORY SALE.

$500,000 Worth of Goods Purchased from Manufacturers and Importers

AT 50¢ ON THE DOLLAR. AT 35¢ ON THE DOLLAR

"The Big Store" is known among manufacturers and importers all over the country as the only cash purchaser of large stocks in Pittsburgh. As a result offers of 50c, 35c and even 25c on the dollar reach us quite often at this season of the year, when manufacturers are anxious to close out the remainders of their Summer Stocks. Hence, Our Annual Mill and Factory Sale is not a sensational splurge, but a downright trade necessity, created by the present market conditions. That the shopping public appreciates this, too, is shown by the crowds now packing "The Big Store," the same as in the busiest Holiday Season.
